Duce Declares Italy And Germany Now Working For Peace

That Is Result of Berlin Talks, Mussolini Says On Broadcast

Brief Speech Is Given By Hitler

BERLIN (AP)—Peace, Premier Mussolini of Italy and Reichsfuehrer Hitler of Germany told a great throng of Germans and a world-wide radio audience tonight, will be the issue of Nazi-Fascist collaboration.

Fully 600,000 Germans roared a welcome when the dictators of Italy and Germany entered the flood-lighted Olympic Stadium.

Bands played the Nazi and Fascist anthems as Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini arrived.

Masses of black and brown uniformed troops stood on the field while the Olympic Stadium overflowed with cheering crowds.

"The entire world," Mussolini said, "is asking what will be the result of this Berlin meeting—war or peace? The Fuehrer and myself reply together in a loud voice—peace!"

There are "no secret intentions behind my trip," Il Duce declared. Il Duce's voice was hoarse, his German perfect, but the pronunciation showed a certain stress.

HITLER'S SPEECH BRIEF

Mussolini spoke twice as long as Hitler, who said but a few words in prefacing the carefully prepared address of his guest.

Hitler bitterly denounced the "democratic, marxist international" (Communist), while Il Duce predicted Europe would go Fascist, "not through our propaganda, but the logic of things."

Mussolini stoutly defended his Spanish policy, "where thousands of Italian Fascist volunteers have fallen attempting to save European culture—a culture which still can be rejuvenated if it turns from false and lying god of Geneva and Moscow toward the real truth of our revolution."

As Mussolini finished speaking the evening's earlier sprinkle turned to rain in earnest. Thousands of umbrellas and their holders rose in the stadium, as Hitler and Mussolini left the May Field and walked through a lane of black guards to the stadium, brilliantly lit by great floodlights.

H. Phillips, Jasper Park Guide, Makes Painful 100-mile Trip

JASPER, Alta. (CP)—Harry Phillips, guide, today was in the hospital recovering from injuries suffered last Thursday when a wounded, enraged grizzly bear attacked him, and from the arduous of a 100-mile ride on a horse over tortuous mountain trails to this town. The guide and Fred Robinson, St. Louis sportsman who saved his life by shooting the grizzly during the attack, arrived here Monday night.

Passes Away

SENATOR R. LEMIEUX

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Rodolphe Lemieux, 71-year-old veteran of Canadian politics, died today in Montreal, it was reported here by his brother.

Mr. Lemieux was born in Montreal. He was educated at Laval University, where he took a degree in law. He entered the House of Commons in 1896, being elected in Gaspé. He held portfolios in the Laurier cabinet, but declined a portfolio in the King cabinet. He became Speaker of the Commons in 1922, serving for years. In June, 1930, he was summoned to the Senate.

NEW FRIENDS FOR BRITAIN

Mussolini and Hitler Seek Links With London, Then France

BERLIN (AP)—Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini have made friendship with Great Britain the cornerstone of their European policy, German and Italian political circles here declared today.

The two leaders met at a private luncheon at the summer home of General Hermann Goering, just outside Berlin, for an across-the-table talk before their broadcast—an appeal for peaceful collaboration with other nations—from the Mayfield Olympic Stadium.

The dictators agreed, well-informed spokesmen said, to work for what might be termed a four-power pact by stages—to include Great Britain now, and later France.

FIRST STEPS PLANNED

The first stage of the plan, the spokesman said, is development of friendship between Rome and London.

DEAN NORRIS, LONDON, DIES

Held Westminster Abbey Post Since 1925; Before That Dean of York

LONDON (CP Cable)—Very Rev. William Foxley Norris, 78, Dean of Westminster since 1925, died at his home here today, two days after the reopening of Westminster Abbey for regular religious services.

Dr. Norris had been ill since the Coronation. He had hoped to take the service last Sunday, the first since the Abbey was closed to the public in January so that it could be prepared for the Coronation, but his heart failed and he returned to the sickbed.

Prior to 1925 Dr. Norris was Dean of York. A graduate of Oxford, he was ordained priest in 1882 and successively was curate.

Eton, vicar of Almondbury, Yorkshire, rector of Barnsley, canon of Worcester, and Archdeacon of Halifax.

He was an amateur painter and once, when doing some landscape work in Italy, was arrested as an Austrian spy. The Italians claimed he had been sketching Italian fortifications. He was held until friends established his identity.

Dr. Norris was a son of the late Canon Foxley Norris. In 1884 he married Mary Blanche Pott, whose father was an archdeacon. There are one son and two daughters.

DISALLOWED BILLS DEBATED

Alberta House Discusses Resolution Denying Federal Right to Halt Measures

EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta Legislature today resumed debate on a resolution denying federal right of disallowance of provincial legislation, and expressing determination to implement three bills disallowed by the federal government.

Constitutional issues were raised and allegations of sedition were heard when the resolution was debated in the House Monday. The members also gave first reading to the bill increasing bank taxation, and providing penalties for default.

Also on the order paper for today, although it was said it might not be reached, was a resolution by Charles Cockroft, former provincial treasurer, advocating establishment of a provincial bank. Contributions from Legislature members and offerings of shares to the public is proposed to raise the $500,000 deposit necessary to obtain a bank charter.

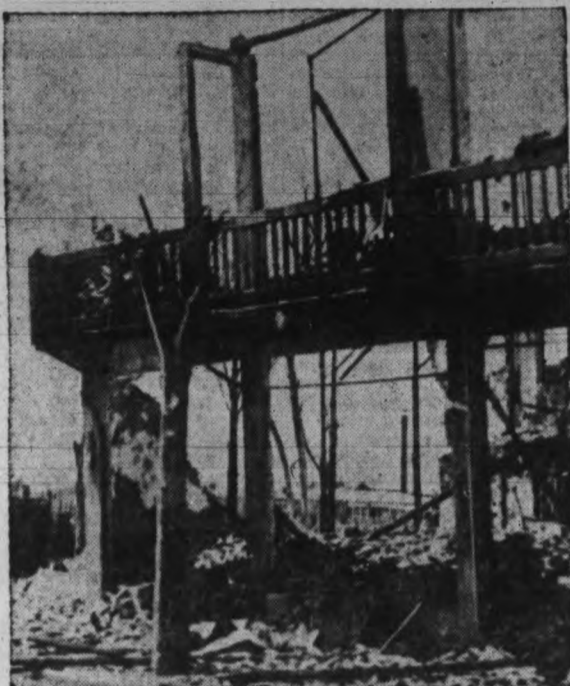

The ruling of Speaker Dawson was upheld, 45 to 11, when he declared in order the resolution on disallowance, and expressing determination to implement the disallowed licensing of bank employees and provision for a bank control directorate, as well as two other disallowed bills respecting courts.

Desolation of War

Bombs from the sky left this home of some prosperous Shanghai merchant a shambles. Remaining almost intact, ironically, was the railing around what once was a balcony. Branches, even some of the bark, were blown off the trees in front of the house. The roof and walls were blasted into small bits. This scene has been repeated many times in the Japanese-Chinese war.

"Sistie" and "Buzzie" Dall Will Accompany President Roosevelt

Two of the Roosevelt grandchildren, Eleanor and Curtis Dall, known to their family and intimates as "Sistie" and "Buzzie," will accompany their distinguished grandparents, Franklin Roosevelt, President of the United States, and Mrs. Roosevelt, on their visit to Victoria Thursday.

With the youngsters, who now live in Seattle, will be their mother, Mrs. John Boettger, wife of the publisher of The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, and their aunt, Mrs. James Roosevelt Jr. They will ride through the streets of Victoria, in cars following those which will contain President and Mrs. Roosevelt and Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, their host and hostess for the two-and-a-half-hour visit to Victoria.

The officials handling the procession arrangements were anxious for good weather, because they would like to have the President drive in an open car from the dock to Government House. Many thousands are expected to line the parade route.

The B.C. Coast Steamship Service is anticipating heavy traffic from the mainland Wednesday night, but is not providing a special excursion boat.

Stressing the informal nature of the President's visit, Mayor Andrew McGavin this morning made a special request that top hats and dress clothes should not be worn by those in the welcoming party. No ceremonial dress of any kind will be worn, except by troops forming the guard of honor. The same informality will be carried out at Government House.

Tokio Orders Call On All Able-bodied Men While League Outlaws Bombers

Decrees Issued by War Ministry Prolong Army Service of Classes Throughout Japan, Though Government Says General Mobilization Not Yet Ordered; Foreign Observers at Shanghai Estimate Nippon Mobilizing 600,000 for Possible Clash With Russia

League Assembly Vote Unanimous

GENEVA (AP)—The League of Nations Assembly today unanimously adopted the Sino-Japanese advisory committee's condemnation of Japanese aerial bombing of noncombatants.

The Assembly acted swiftly on the resolution. It had been adopted Monday by the League advisory group.

A letter accompanying the text of the resolution, from Foreign Minister William Munters of Latvia, president of the 23-nation Sino-Japanese committee, explained its purpose was to give delegates not represented on the committee an opportunity to subscribe to it.

Alvarez del Vayo, republican Spain's League delegate, then took the floor to support the resolution. At the conclusion of his address, the Aga Khan, chairman of the Assembly, announced the body had approved the censure of Japan without dissenting vote.

The brief condemnation of Japanese aerial tactics in the conflict in China, as approved by the advisory committee, expresses "profound distress at the loss of life caused to innocent civilians, including a great number of women and children, as the result of such bombardment."

The resolution declares "no excuse can be made for such acts, which have aroused horror and indignation throughout the world."

DENY SINKING FISHING FLEET

While Chinese Survivors at Hongkong, Japanese Say No Submarine Involved

TOKIO—The naval ministry issued a categorical denial today of reports from Hongkong that a Japanese submarine had sunk a fleet of Chinese fishing vessels, and charged the story was an example of "fabricated propaganda."

Ten Chinese were brought to Hongkong Monday by the German liner Scharnhorst, which had rescued them from the fishing junk they said was the only one of 12 to survive an attack by a Japanese submarine. They declared 300 lives had been lost, women and children being among the victims.

"The Japanese navy has given stern warnings to its warships not to assault fishing vessels or junks entertaining no enmity," the navy spokesman asserted.

"There has been no instance in which a Japanese warship, including submarines, has attacked innocent Chinese fishing vessels. This is nothing but fabricated propaganda such as the groundless talk of Japanese air raids on Canton killing thousands of non-combatants."

Envoy in China Goes to Moscow

Sudden Trip of Ambassador Outgrowth of Hostilities in Orient

NANKING (AP)—Dimitri Bogomoloff, Soviet ambassador to China, left suddenly for Moscow today on what was believed to be a mission affecting Russia's position in the Sino-Japanese conflict.

The Russian ambassador left aboard a special Eurasia airliner for a direct flight to Moscow. He was flying the northwestern route and was expected to reach the Russian capital in four days.

Russia has declared Japan's repeated bombardments of Nanking to be "illegal" and warned Japan she would be held responsible for any injury to Soviet citizens or property.

Japanese Leader Scores the League

TOKIO (AP)—Japan was placed on an unlimited war footing for the Sino-Japanese conflict by a series of decrees issued Tuesday, affecting virtually every able-bodied man in the empire.

The war ministry issued the long-prepared military ordinance "No. 41," which indefinitely prolongs military service for all officers and men on both the active and reserve lists. The decree ordered all soldiers belonging to mobilized troops at home or to units already stationed in China to remain in service "until further notification."

The extension also was made to special voluntary officers. Ordinary officers and men on reserve and the first conscript reserve list whose term of service was scheduled to end in 1938 were ordered to serve an additional year.

FLIERS ATTACK WUHU AIRPORT

Chinese said they had not yet been able to determine the number of casualties.

Two Japanese bombers were shot down, Chinese said, in a fight with Chinese pursuit planes.

A fleet of 30 Japanese war planes also bombed Nanking Tuesday but, in apparent reaction to foreign protests against attacks on civilians, avoided the thickly populated areas.

The attack was confined to the outlying districts, where the planes rained bombs for only 10 minutes before they disappeared in cloudbanks. The fleet flew up the Yangtze in the direction of Wuhu, 30 miles to the southwest.

Among the principal targets of the raiders were the military airbase and arsenal outside the capital and the towns of Chungking, Lishui and Tangtu.

JAPAN CLAIMS GAINS

SHANGHAI (AP)—In the first claims of progress in several days in the hostilities with China, the Japanese army announced Tuesday that an armored train had pushed 50 miles south of captured Paoingfu in north China, putting the most advanced Japanese point 130 miles south of Peiping on the railroad to Hankow.

On the Shanghai front the Japanese claimed advances of 300 to 500 yards all along the entire Lotien and Luhong sectors, 20 miles northwest of Shanghai, after days of severe fighting.

Japanese bombers concentrated their efforts Tuesday on destruction of China's air strength, bombing airbases in the vicinity of Nanking, raiding Canton three times and attacking two Chinese areas of Shanghai.

lodged at Tokio if investigation shows there were junks of British nationality among the Chinese fishing fleet reported sunk 75 miles from Hongkong by a Japanese submarine, it was predicted here.

Sir Robert Craigie, British ambassador at Tokio, was instructed to send a full report on the alleged attack.

While officials maintained silence, word of the incident brought increased support for an unofficial campaign for a boycott of all Japanese imports, which is sponsored by The London News-Chronicle.

In an editorial, The London Times, recalling Japan's assurances she would safeguard non-combatants, declared "these lofty words make a shabby pendant to the imperial navy's latest exploit . . . the systematic destruction by gunfire of almost a whole fishing fleet of junks without rescuing men, women and children struggling in the water."

"This massacre in cold blood of a little civilian community can be excused by no plea that the fishermen had even the remotest connection with the war," The Times adds. "It is a crime revolting not only to the world at large but to all Japanese who still honor the chivalrous traditions of the Samurai."

NEW OFFENSIVE IN EAST SPAIN

GRANDCHILDREN OF ROOSEVELT COMING

Seattle, and her escort, U.S.S. Porter, and convey them to Ogden Point.

At Work Point Barracks plans were completed to fire three 21-gun salutes, the first as the President's warship approaches the breakwater, the second as he steps on Canadian soil, and the third as his ship leaves the harbor.

According to word received in Victoria today from the American Legation in Washington, the President has personally suggested that "the dress to be worn should be strictly informal, and in no way formal day attire."

Something in the way of a record for water craft between Seattle and Victoria will be established on the Presidential voyage. The Phelps and the Fowler, the former a flotilla leader, both have speeds of 35 knots. They will leave Seattle at 10 in the morning and reach Victoria at 12:30—a trip of 85 miles in two and a half hours.

They will travel at full speed all the way. H.M.C.S. Skeena and H.M.C.S. Fraser will also put on full speed when they meet the American destroyers, about 10 miles out.

ROUTE OF DRIVES

Routes over which President Roosevelt and his party will travel during their stay in Victoria on Thursday were definitely decided upon yesterday. Police announced today they were seeking full public co-operation to keep all streets over which the cars would travel clear of other traffic.

On his arrival the President will proceed to Government House by Dallas Road, Menzies Street, Belleville Street, Government Street, Yates Street, Vancouver Street and Rockland Avenue.

After the visit to the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, President and Mrs. Roosevelt will be taken on a short scenic drive. Leaving Government House they will proceed down Rockland Avenue to Oak Bay Avenue, to Richmond Road, to Fort Street, to Cadboro Bay Road, through the Uplands to Marine Drive and return to the dock by Marine Drive and Dallas Road.

Like Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi Propaganda Minister, who opened the mass meeting, Der Fuehrer expressed "great rejoicing" of the German people for Duce's visit.

Apparently alluding to foreign intimations that Italy's international policy is fickle, Mussolini assured his audience that "the fact that I have come to Germany today does not signify that tomorrow I will go elsewhere."

"We Nazis and Fascists," he said, "wish peace, and we will always be ready to work for a truly fruitful peace which does not remain silent on the questions arising from the co-existence of peoples, but which solves them."

The Rome and Berlin regimes, he asserted, are not "dictatorships," but governments existing through the wholehearted consent of their peoples.

ESTIMATE IS 600,000

SHANGHAI (AP)—Japan was estimated by foreign military observers in north China Tuesday to be mobilizing 600,000 troops for a possible clash with Russia as her expeditionary forces claimed advances on all China fronts.

French army authorities at Tientsin, headquarters of the Japanese north China expeditionary force, reported the full strength of Japan in Korea and Manchukuo, on the border of Soviet Siberia, was being placed on a war footing in the event Russia becomes embroiled in the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Alcazar General Takes Command of Rebel Troops in Aragon

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier (AP)—General Francisco Franco today was planning a new offensive on the Aragon front in eastern Spain, with 250,000 men under the new command of General Jose Moscardo, hero of the Alcazar.

Moscardo assumed the command of the fifth army, relieving General Pontea Manzo de Zuniga, reported as wounded.

(Just a year ago Moscardo had emerged from the 72-day siege of the Alcazar fortress he commanded. There he defied government troops to blow the historic fort and its 1,700 occupants to bits. His son, held as a government hostage, was shot when Moscardo refused to surrender at the price of the youth's freedom.)

PRISONERS TAKEN

Along the Aragon fronts today a government advance in the Muela sector cost the government 300 prisoners, some 400 dead and 180 wounded, the insurgents claimed.

An insurgent communique said General Franco's men were trying to hurry the campaign against Gijon, the Republican government's last seaport in the northwest.

Rivadesella, Biscayan fishing port about 30 miles east of Gijon, fell Monday despite strong resistance by Asturian troops.

NO TRACE OF MISSING MAN

C. S. Ross, Chicago, Abducted Saturday; No Ransom Demand Yet

CHICAGO (AP)—A hotel bell-boy's meagre description of a mysterious man in a grey coat offered the only promising clue today to the kidnappers of wealthy and aged Charles S. Ross.

The man talked to Ross in a Sycamore, Ill., hotel a few hours before the 72-year-old retired greeting card manufacturer was abducted on a highway a few miles west of Chicago Saturday night.

No demand for ransom had been received by the victim's distraught wife. The kidnappers' silence engendered a belief Ross might have died from shock. He had suffered from heart disease.

The conversation between Ross and the man wearing a grey coat occurred at the Fargo hotel where the former had dined with his one-time secretary, Miss Florence Freilange, 44.

Japan's Blows Unifying China

TORONTO (CP)—Japan's hammer blows are welding a unified China, said Rt. Rev. H. J. Hamilton, one-time Anglican bishop of Mid-Japan.

In an address here Monday night the bishop said that from a collection of warring provinces, each with its own war lord, China was emerging as a united nation under Japanese aggression.

The other side of Japan's invasion of China was the island empire's urgent, tragic need for expansion, he said. More than 70,000,000 Japanese were crowded into a country half the size of Ontario, living on the edge of famine, unable to produce enough to feed its people.

Fostering of warlike spirit among the Japanese Bishop Hamilton blamed on western civilization's march.

"The Christian church failed to export Christianity to Japan," Bishop Hamilton declared. "We are reaping the results of that failure today."

world," and "solemnly" condemn such attacks.

Dr. Wellington Koo, China's delegate, had urged the League to brand Japan the "wrongdoer" and an aggressor—if the League could not go further to "enforce international law and the principles of the (League) covenant."

Alvarez del Vayo's speech was applauded loudly. Then Dr. Koo, mounting the rostrum and evidently overcome with emotion, voiced China's gratitude for the prompt decision—a decision, he said, "which will be hailed with satisfaction by all humanity."

The advisory committee's meeting scheduled for today was canceled. No reason was publicly announced, but reports were current that the leading delegations wished more time to explore the problem of what more could be done to deal practically with the Far Eastern Conflict.

New Zealand Dock Workers Refuse to Handle Nipponese Cargoes

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP, Havas)—The Auckland branch of the New Zealand Federation of Labor today ordered union longshoremen to refuse to handle Japanese goods and war material destined to the Tokyo government.

The move resulted from the Japanese bombardment of civilian centres in China.

The Auckland branch also urged the executive council of the federation to take steps toward extension of such a boycott to all of New Zealand.

At Dunedin Monday longshoremen decided to refuse to load shipments of scrap iron for Japan.

Yokohama Police Disregard Protests of Chang Fu-ying

SHANGHAI (CP-Havas)—Disregarding his diplomatic immunity, Japanese police in Yokohama today searched the baggage of Chang Fu-ying, who was a member of the Chinese delegation to the Coronation of King George VI and was returning to China aboard the Canadian liner Empress of Japan after an extended European tour, dispatches received here said.

While Chang protested vainly through the Chinese embassy in Tokio, police systematically went through his effects while the Empress of Japan was docked at Yokohama. Chang carried a diplomatic passport and had no intention of disembarking in Japan.

Chang Fu-ying sailed from Victoria aboard the Empress of Japan September 4.

No Russian War Move, Say Papers

MOSCOW (AP)—The official organs of the Soviet government and the Communist Party joined today to disavow any warlike intentions "for Russia" in leading editorials that were considered peculiarly significant in the light of the tense Far Eastern situation.

"Our enemies who think the peaceful intentions of the Soviet government are a sign we are afraid of war will be seriously mistaken."

On Way to Victoria, U.S. President Speaks at Site of Great Dam

BONNEVILLE DAM, Ore. (AP)—President Roosevelt stood on this great federal power-navigation project today and asserted its cost would be returned many times over in improved navigation, cheaper electricity and distribution of power to "hundreds of small counties within a great radius."

The first formal address of his west coast trip which will take him to Victoria, B.C., on Thursday, he tied in this $51,000,000 Columbia basin undertaking with his programme for regional and national planning. He declared, too, that instead of spending half its income on armaments as some nations do, the United States was wiser in building such projects to give "more wealth, better living and greater happiness for our children."

Herridge Sees Fascist Danger

Ex-Minister to U.S. Says Canada Needs Economic Changes

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—Fascism is possible in Canada unless reform wins its fight against reaction and unless the people protest the denial of their rights, Hon. W. D. Herridge, former Canadian Minister to the United States, told the Sydney Board of Trade Monday night.

He sounded a call "to the old capitalism" to help create a new economy to combat the peril of reaction and Fascism.

Capitalism would never again work for Canada in the old way, Major Herridge declared. He stressed the value of trade unionism, which he believed reactionary forces were seeking to destroy. He warned agriculture would be the next victim once the unions were destroyed.

Those who would set up a Fascist government would "import imaginary revolutionaries," and "dress up trade unionism in a frightful way," Major Herridge declared, in order to instill fear in the minds of the people.

Trade unionism was "the bright light of progress. Put out that light—crush labor's power down—and we destroy the only kind of capitalism that will work under democracy."

There was a lack of unity in Canada—no common hopes or fears, no common enemy; there were racial and religious disunity and divisions over constitutional and other reforms, he said.

JAPAN LOSES BIG BRITISH ORDER

at peace, whether she is at war, or whether she is making good the gains of war—she vitally and inescapably depends."

Following a recital of recent operations of the Japanese air force, The Times editorial goes on:

"Tokio claims all air raids have been directed against military, or at any rate strategic, objectives, but ascertainable damage done such objectives has been infinitesimal by comparison with the havoc wrought among civilians in thickly populated districts."

"Japan, it seems, is bent on demoralizing China by methods which other nations have not hesitated to condemn, and which are arousing public opinion, particularly in this country and in America, to a degree which Japan may well have cause to regret."

"Her resort to the tactics of barbarism is a symptom of her impatience, if not of her alarm, and by making that resort she has conjured up a menace ultimately greater than that represented by the elusive and indestructible Chinese soldier."

COULD BE STOPPED

"Great Britain and the United States," argues The London Daily Herald, "could stop the Japanese air raids and could stop the war, not by sending more notes but by the simple act of putting an embargo on all trade with Japan."

The News-Chronicle continues to urge its readers not to buy Japanese goods.

The psychology to be pursued is two-fold:

1. To impress the British government with the solidarity of the Italo-German line-up and its combined military strength.

2. To convince London this strength is not to be used against Great Britain, but that in conjunction with her it would serve to keep peace in Europe.

This is to be the first stage. The second stage is to convince France it is to her interest to come into the London-Berlin-Rome alignment. It was added, Hitler and Mussolini would count on British influence over France to bring this about.

This, then, would make the four-power pact. An important feature of the plan, however, it was added, is that France would be asked to give up her defensive alliance with Russia before she could enter into the arrangement.

BANQUET STATEMENTS

In an exchange of toasts at a state banquet given in the Reich chancellery for the visiting Italian statesman, Monday evening, Mussolini and Hitler reaffirmed solidarity of the Rome-Berlin axis of close collaboration in European affairs.

They proclaimed that their co-operative axis, though capable of supporting even wide European co-operation, was impervious to any attempts to wreck Italian-German friendship by playing one nation off against the other.

Hitler declared, however, that

"OPEN DOOR" MAY BE SHUT

U.S. Business Fears Japan May Control China Markets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Is China's commercial "open door" about to be slammed shut?

Authoritative observers predicted that if a victorious Japan should gain control of the Chinese maritime customs system, the bulk of foreign exports soon would be excluded by preferential treatment of Japanese goods. Exports from the United States to China in 1936 amounted to about $47,000,000.

Responsible persons here viewed as an ominous sign news dispatches quoting United States business men in Shanghai as saying Japan already had established its own customs depots there.

Conversations which I have had with Your Excellency in these recent days have strengthened our friendship and immunized it against every attempt to disturb and divide it—no matter what quarter it may come."

A brilliant company of more than 200 guests, including cabinet members of the two nations, as well as political and industrial leaders, heard the Fascist chiefs' addresses.

San Francisco Wharves Quiet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Abandonment of mass demonstrations on the part of American Federation of Labor teamsters and a call for a round-table discussion of San Francisco's current waterfront dispute brought a new calm to the recent tense situation at the docks today.

About 1,200 longshoremen, were at work on all ships in the harbor. Several hundred, meeting at their hiring hall, were told to scatter when it became evident A.F.L. teamsters, protesting committee of industrial organization control of warehousemen, would not hold a mass protest. More than 8,000 men milled around in yesterday's demonstration.

REFUSE TO SAIL

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The first sit-down strike here under a foreign flag was under way today aboard the Norwegian steamer Vestvord.

The crew, which numbers 30, refused to sail with a cargo of scrap iron for Osaka, Moji and Yawata, Japan, unless guaranteed a war bonus of 1,000 kroner, approximately $250 for each man.

Captain Brasstad, master of the ship, notified his employers in Norway. The ship was scheduled to sail Sunday.

SHIP PULLED FREE

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 300-ton freighter Salvor was pulled from a mudbank at Squamish, 40 miles north of here in Howe Sound, yesterday, Pacific Salvage Company headquarters announced.

The Salvor, operated by Galt Steamship Company of Vancouver in the British Columbia Coastwise trade, ran aground Sunday night. No estimate of damage was available immediately.

Health of Eskimos Reported Good; Northwest Passage Used By Ships

HALIFAX (CP)—The eastern Arctic patrol, fresh from its 10,912-mile tour of the Arctic archipelago, Hudson Bay and Hudson Strait, returned today on the R.M.S. Nascopie, and Major D. L. McKeand, patrol commander, said he was delighted with the health and general conditions of the almost 6,000 Eskimos with whom he came more or less directly in contact during the cruise.

Everywhere the Eskimos were found to be in good health and generally well provided with seal and other foods which form their natural diet. Trapping of fur-bearing animals, chiefly the white fox, has improved.

"The Dominion Government is most desirous that the Eskimos keep off relief and therefore they are encouraged to stay where the fishing and hunting are best, and only come to the trading posts only when they have something to trade. We believe the self-reliance, so natural to the Eskimos, should be carefully preserved, and it would soon be lost if they spent too much time around the posts.

POPULATION INCREASING

"We have definite information, including vital statistics, to show Canada's Eskimo population is decidedly on the increase. Everywhere we went among them the happy-faced, vigorous children formed a considerable portion of the population.

"Dr. L. D. Livingston, medical officer with the patrol," Major McKeand continued, "made a very careful study of the natives throughout the tour, and found them particularly free from disease. There were 13 deaths at a point near Lake Harbor last winter from a disease that has not yet been diagnosed, but otherwise the reports everywhere have been most encouraging."

Major McKeand said the Nascopie participated in the establishment by the Hudson's Bay Company of a post at Port Ross on the southeast corner of Somerset Island at the end of Bellot Strait. "This is really the Northwest Passage the early explorers strove to find. The Nascopie came there with a cargo from Montreal and Churchill, much of which was transhipped into the schooner Aklavik and taken to Peterson Bay on King William Bay. Thus for the first time, the Northwest Passage was used to convey freight from the east to the west, as well as to bring furs from the west to the east."

MET MISSION SHIP

"While we were going through these unfamiliar seas to establish a new post which will add 1,000 natives to the eastern Arctic family, the schooner Therese, Roman Catholic mission ship on Hudson Bay, was making the first trip of any ship from Repulse Bay through Fox Basin to Igloodik at the northern end of Melville Peninsula. She has since made the return trip successfully.

"The expedition, headed by J. M. Wordie and sponsored by the Royal Geographical Society, did useful work along Ellesmere Island and adjacent points. We missed meeting them by one day at Craig Harbor on Ellesmere Island. We enjoyed our visit with the expedition headed by Commander Donald B. MacMillan, which centred its activities at Frobisher Bay, Baffin Island.

The Nascopie's commander, Capt. T. F. Smellie, remarked his ship had encountered less ice and had more fair weather than on any previous voyage into the Canadian far north.

"We had plenty of ice in 1934," the veteran Arctic navigator said, "but since then the amount of ice has been less each year. The weather this year was exceptionally warm; we experienced little trouble with the ice in August. On our first visit to Burwell in July the harbor was full of ice, but there was none when we returned in September."

Crew Rescued By Coastguard

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Twenty crew members of the lumber schooner Caspar were rescued by the coastguard today before the vessel was beached in Drake's Bay, 35 miles north of here.

One man was injured slightly during the rescue, and five others were left aboard the ship to attempt repairs of a hole in the starboard side.

Capt. John M. Buckley, in charge of the coastguard station at Point Reyes, said the crew was taken off by the cutter Shoshone.

The steel ship was listing 40 degrees to the port, or left side, and a salvage barge was standing by. The sea was calm and the crew members were able to remove their personal effects from the ship.

The Caspar, a vessel of 478 net tons owned by the Caspar Lumber Company, sailed from San Francisco at 9 p.m. yesterday for Caspar, Calif., a lumber port on the northern California coast.

Process Increases Yield From Whales

WASHINGTON—A new fleet of German whalers, equipped to process whales by a new method, and adaptation of the resulting whale oil for use in manufacturing paints are aiding Germany in her nationalistic struggle to make herself independent of vegetable and animal oil imports, Sydney B. Bedecker, United States consul at Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany, reports.

Yield of meat, fat, oil and valuable by-products from the whale is markedly increased by means of the new process, Mr. Bedecker declares in a report to the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Research workers are also concentrating on finding other industrial uses for whale oil, once used the world over as a lighting fluid, but now prized by the Germans as an animal oil they can secure to cut down their importation of fats.

SOUTH SHIELDS, Durham, Eng. (CP)—The world's longest tow has ended here. The tug Ganges towed the disabled steamer Kingswood 15,000 miles from Port Pirie, Australia. The Kingswood was badly damaged near Port Pirie by a boiler explosion.

Towing days totaled 127, but in addition the two ships spent 21 days in various ports. The Kingswood will undergo repairs in the Tyne.

Open Towns

THE JAPANESE BOMBARDMENT OF the open city of Nanking continues with unabated ferocity and, with an ever-gathering rage, the rest of the world is beginning to subdue all other considerations in a common and unanimous note of protest. As protest after protest and demand after demand are heaped upon the Japanese government that government continues to reply with an utterly callous cynicism that it is only bombing military objectives. But daily the numbers of women and children in civilian areas who are being slaughtered increases.

The British Press—very slow to move as a body in what the cautious British generally regard as other people's business—has awakened with unanimous anger to the situation, and the day's telegraph news brings strongly worded quotations from such widely different papers as The Times, The Daily Herald, The News-Chronicle and others, and all unanimous in demanding the cessation of this inhumanity.

Indeed, the moment is opportune for a general pact between the nations agreeing that this horror shall never again arise to disgrace humanity and flaunt civilization, that never again shall the blood of women and children be poured out in unmerciful air raids perpetrated solely for the purpose of breaking the morale of the invaded country, that never again shall the mangled bodies of peaceful noncombatants lie unburied—an insult to God and Man, while a raging and callous marauder pursues his objective with a "frightfulness" unknown to the Germans who invented the word as applied to military operations.

The moment is opportune for such a pact and largely because the tactics of the Japanese provide a terrible example of what could easily happen in the crowded and open cities of Europe in the event of a general war. London is especially vulnerable in this respect not only because of its sprawling magnitude but also because its greater buildings, government offices, vast docks and business centres are grouped about the River Thames and every winding reach of the river is certainly known intimately to every foreign power that might conceivably attack the city. There is no time of the day or night, except in a deep fog, when the river is not visible from the air.

The time has arrived to outlaw this infamy for ever.

Japan and Our Pulpwood

LATEST FIGURES ON THE PRODUCTION of newsprint in Canada make us realize why Japan's order lifting after October 1 all duty on wood imported for the manufacture of pulp should be viewed with some concern. Especially at this time when Japanese interests have secured extensive Crown granted timber limits on Vancouver Island from which the provincial government is powerless to control the export of raw logs.

The Japanese acquisition of these limits appears to be shrouded in mystery. It has been accomplished through Canadian incorporated companies. That these plans are being fostered from Japan is evidenced by the raising of the tariff barriers to permit the export of the raw material for manufacture in Japan.

For years Canada has stood unchallenged as the top newsprint and pulp manufacturing country in the world. It is a business that has been growing steadily. Our newsprint production has grown from 3,830,000,000 pounds in 1932 to 6,384,000,000 pounds in 1936. Our wood pulp export business in three years has risen from 1,211,282,000 pounds to 1,508,993,000. Every avenue should be searched to nip in the beginning a move that carries any kind of threat against the ranking position Canada now holds in this industry.

Overseas League

A CAPABLE ADVOCATE OF A WORTHY organization visited Victoria this week in the person of Sir Evelyn Wrench, founder and organizer of the Overseas League. There is no doubt his visit will mean the organization in British Columbia of branches strong enough to aid effectively the commendable objectives of the league.

Service to Canada and service to the Empire as a whole are the aims of the league which, it may not generally be known, had its foundation in Canada more than 36 years ago. As Sir Evelyn was touring the Dominion at that time, ideas for its formation were put down in memorandum form. Later it grew into the organization which now covers the Empire. It has encouraged travel, as individuals and in parties of educationists and others between Great Britain and Canada and next year, particularly, the league plans to take numerous parties to Great Britain. These parties will travel not merely as tourists but as members of a great Empire brotherhood. It is this kind of travel which brings that personal contact which can do much for the Empire unity to which the League is devoted.

Educationist in Politics

IN 1925, AFTER EXHAUSTIVE RESEARCH into the problems of education in British Columbia, there was produced the Putman report. It has gone down in history as the outstanding study of popular education in Canada. As such it has been having an important influence on education throughout this and other countries. Its authors were Dr. J. H. Putman, who was and still is inspector of Ottawa's public schools, and Dr. George M. Weir, who had come from a post on the prairies to become a professor in the University of British Columbia. In 1933 Dr. Weir entered politics, becoming Minister of Education for British Columbia.

Now his partner in the production of that report has entered politics and, if elected, will almost certainly also become a minister of education. Dr. Putman has accepted the Liberal nomination for South Ottawa in the Ontario provincial election. His entry into politics with the probability of his being Ontario's next Minister of Education has aroused interest from coast to coast. The Conservative Ottawa Journal steps out of its party role to congratulate South Ottawa Liberals on their nomination of one who "has given a lifetime of service to the teaching profession, is an educationist of high standing and more than local fame." The Journal speaks of "his long experience, his fine mind, his modern approach to the problems of education" which "would add to the efficiency of any legislative body and in him South Ottawa would have a representative worthy of respect and confidence."

Referring to the prospect of Dr. Putman being the next Minister of Education under Premier Hepburn, The Journal says: "If it were to come about probably we would see drastic changes in the educational system of the province. Dr. Putman has expressed special interest in the system of rural education in Ontario, has said it has stood practically unchanged since the days of the great Dr. Ryerson, that it should be brought up to date. This, we should say, is a man-size job and—if the hurdles are taken—Dr. Putman will find plenty to do for the next few years. The leisure he has earned will be postponed indefinitely. It says something for the man's calibre that at the close of a long and arduous professional career he should be willing to enter a totally new field of activity, submit his future to the hazards of the electoral will."

As The Journal adds, the nomination of Dr. Putman by a wide margin over two formidable competitors, speaks well of the broad-mindedness of South Ottawa Liberals. Here was a case where a party organization chose a man who never had been actively connected with any political party—barred, of course, by his public office—when such a choice inevitably must have brought keen disappointment to some who thought they had claims on the party's gratitude. It was a demonstration of a degree of public spirit not too common in such organizations. It is encouraging to those who believe that intelligence and efficiency in government can be a trait of democracy.

Notes

They tell us the next war will be the end of civilization, but they do not tell us which end.

Germany, Italy and Japan are called the "have-not nations." We might tell what they have not got, but it would not be polite.

Latest product of the inventors is an odorless hamburger, a development that a lot of hungry people will not take with relish.

An oil industry bulletin charges that a big-time gasoline bootlegger has fled to Spain. Probably there to organize the pirate petrol.

According to the wishes of a London resident, his ashes were scattered from a golf tee, adding the one slice of life that he had missed.

Japan's emperor regrets that China has failed to understand the true intentions of the Japanese. It would nevertheless appear that the Nanking government is getting a pretty good idea.

Tommy Manville, the playboy product of the asbestos fortune, paying $200,000 to be free of his fourth blonde wife should at least have the solace of an honorary certificate for sharing the wealth.

A Tokio newspaper has warned that Great Britain and the United States "will only suffer greater damage in the end" if they and other powers seriously attempt to restrain Japanese bombings of China's capital, Nanking. If this is meant as a serious threat Japan had better make the most she can get out of the consolation.

DICTATORS IN CANADA

From The Toronto Telegram

Any political leader who is to make a success of administering the affairs of the province or the Dominion must be a dictator in the sense that he must dominate the government if his administration is to be a success. If he makes wise decisions his so-called dictatorship will win approval; if he makes unwise decisions the electorate will promptly put an end to his dictatorship and elect a new king. That is the essence of democracy. This is ensured by a free press and the ballot box. Thus in the final analysis do the people rule in a democratic country.

Should Hon. Earl Rowe be elected on October 6, he will be just as much a dictator as Premier Hepburn. If not, he won't last long. Hon. W. L. M. King is quite as much a dictator as was Hon. R. B. Bennett, though he may be more adroit in concealing the iron hand under the velvet glove.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OLD FRIEND

THIS WEEK Victorians will see perhaps the most interesting public man at present alive (though you might back Stalin or Hitler or Mussolini for that honor) in the person of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Having seen him, close up and in action at the high flush of his early popularity, I shall be interested to see what people here think of him. My expectation is that he will capture the hearts of everybody who talks with him. He is that kind of a man, with an extraordinary, potent charm unlike that possessed by any other important statesman who speaks our language.

Mr. Roosevelt comes here in the first real trouble of his career as President. He comes here smarting with defeat and having shown for the first time that he is a man capable of a bitter stubbornness as well as exquisite charm. He comes here after a terrible blunder in politics, the first (for any others were economic, financial, but not political) he has ever made. He comes here under the shadow of his defeat on the Supreme Court issue in which he seems to have slipped in a fashion to amaze his friends.

Apparently, however, the man's capacity to absorb mistakes is almost unlimited. I dare say that within a few months he will have absorbed this one, just as he absorbed the NRA debacle and his early monkeying with gold. These things don't matter much in a man's career. As he has said himself, it's the general batting average that counts. His is high, and his reputation secure with the public, as all electoral tests show.

But what, really, does Roosevelt amount to? What will be his place in history beside the other presidents who have preceded him? This is an intensely interesting question for us who have seen the man at close range. It is interesting because history may well reverse all our judgments, may find Roosevelt much bigger or much smaller than we imagine him now. Our judgments, favorable or unfavorable, really aren't worth much.

In 50 years they may look back and say that this man who will be among us here Thursday started a revolutionary process in the United States which eventually led to an entirely new social system. Or it may say that he was just a mild incident in a process which he never directed and never understood. They will know, then, as we can't now, whether Roosevelt was a cause, as Washington and Lincoln were, or merely an effect. When you see Mr. Roosevelt come ashore in Victoria you will be looking at one of the major enigmas of our time. Don't try to solve it with a quick judgment. You won't know anything definite about him until another 25 years have completed the movements now under way.

EASTERNER

IT TAKES AN EASTERNER to appreciate the wonders of our splendid west. Last week-end I took a notable Canadian from Ontario for his first drive up the island. We only had about six hours to spend on it, because notable easterners' time, of course, is too valuable to be squandered. I drove hard past lovely Goldstream (he was talking all the way about the condition of the stock market), and through lush fields of Cowichan (he was telling me all the way about the condition of the hardware business in Toronto), down into the hazy valley of Westholme (he was saying that Premier Hepburn ought to be elected to stop all this dangerous labor agitation), along the sea at Chemainus (he was arguing that President Roosevelt had nothing to do with our present prosperity), and finally across to Cameron Lake.

The great forest (which all governments talk about preserving but never do) was as haunting as a great cathedral, hushed with the solemn first hush of autumn, probably the noblest sight in Canada. The notable easterner stood there looking at it for about 10 seconds. His face grew serious and, I thought, a little reverent. I could see that he was in the grip of a powerful emotion.

"I was just thinking," he said, "is there anywhere in this wilderness where we can get dinner?"

After this I am going to take notable easterners out to the beer parlors of Fernie-malt.

POLYGAMY

ACCORDING to a dispatch from Cambridge, England, in The Washington, D.C. Post "The Bishop of Birmingham," the Right Rev. Ernest William Barnes, agreed that there was widespread polygamy, but he blamed it all on war. Future wars may have a more equalizing effect, however, because airplane raids will destroy men and women without discrimination," the bishop said. "This would be valuable," he added."

This is a nice idea for Christians to contemplate over Sunday. It seems to be a rather round-about way to cure polygamy.

SUGGESTS AN APOLOGY

To the Editor:—May I say through your paper that I think the Victoria Sea Cadets owe an apology to the Salvation Army.

Sunday evening the Sea Cadets were marching up Yates Street and, as soon as they came abreast of the Army street meeting, the leader gave the order to start playing. I surely thought the Sea Cadets had more etiquette than to do a thing like that. They could have marched another block and then started to play.

Orders-in-Council Enable Aberhart To Outwit Ottawa

(By NORMAN M. MACLEOD)

WHAT will be Premier William S. Aberhart's next step along the road of dictatorship?

That is a question to which Federal officialdom is now devoting a whole lot of worry. The situation is regarded as rendered immeasurably more delicate by the fact that the Albertan Premier has turned aside into the more devious by-ways of government by order-in-council, over which the Federal Government exercises no police powers.

The batch of orders-in-council which Mr. Aberhart passed the other day to deny individuals, whom his government's legislation injured, access to the courts of justice cannot be disallowed by Ottawa. Parliament Hill's corps of legal experts are agreed on that point.

Neither—if Mr. Aberhart chose to pass it—could an order-in-council suspending habeas corpus be disallowed.

Will that be the Albertan Premier's next stand? As constitutional observers view the situation, suspension of habeas corpus is only one step further along the road, once the point of denying individuals access to the province's courts has been reached.

That is the real fear which responsible circles on Parliament Hill entertain with respect to the Social Credit Premier's present policy of hanging on to power, regardless of the illegality of the measures to which he has to resort. There is a genuine apprehension that Mr. Aberhart, in his determination to over-ride all considerations of individual right to freedom in order to cling to power, may not even respect the fundamental safeguard of British liberties, namely, habeas corpus.

SO FAR as the situation of the moment is concerned, the Federal view is that the next move is up to either the Albertan courts or to individual litigants in Alberta. That the order-in-council trespass on the rights of the courts to frame their own rules, and strike a blow at their independence is conceded by all legal experts here.

At the same time, it is recognized that the Albertan courts may not consider it expedient to challenge the orders-in-council and thereby recognize them in advance of the necessity of so doing. Persons desirous of launching suits against the constitutionality of recent Albertan legislation, it is suggested Federally, may take the usual steps towards doing so. Then, if the clerks or registrars refuse to enter their actions, they can move before the Supreme Court of the province for a mandamus compelling their suits to be placed on the lists.

In that way the validity of the recent orders-in-council would be brought before the Albertan court for its judgment upon them. That the court would take any other view than that the orders were wholly without force or effect, is regarded by legal officials here as inconceivable. It is taken for granted that the Albertan Supreme Court would disallow them by its own judgment.

That would simply raise anew the question: What will Mr. Aberhart do next? There is the growing conviction amongst the Federal statesmen—that this issue will have to be faced yet on Parliament Hill in even nastier form than it assumed when it was merely a matter of disallowing a couple of provincial statutes.

POOR SEAMANSHIP

To the Editor:—With reference to the Endeavour I, I would like to ask a question some of your readers may answer. The steamship which was towing it had, I presume, a contract to deliver this boat in England. Why did she not do so? But the worst part of this breach of contract was that the steamship, when the tow rope broke, abandoned the Endeavour in a dangerous storm and "beat it" to safety, leaving the sailing boat with not even her sails up and presumably a heavy steel cable hanging from her bow. As far as one can gather from the accounts, the tug never even waited to know if the crew required rescuing. Surely this was cowardly to the last degree, and contrary to all the traditions of our sailors. There may be circumstances of which we are not aware, and if so they ought to be made known to the public.

Attic Salt-shaker

MANY OF the world's greatest geniuses did not become famous until they were long past middle age, points out Hereward Carrington in "The Psychic World". Then he names a few:

Cervantes was 58 when the first part of "Don Quixote" was given to the public.
Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales" were the product of his old age.

Milton was sixty when he began to compose "Paradise Lost."

Daniel Defoe was 58 when he produced "Robinson Crusoe."

Bunyan did not write "Pilgrim's Progress" until he was over 40.

SOME MORE

Darwin did not begin to write his "Origin of Species" until long past 40.

Sir Walter Scott was 43 before he began to attract attention by his writings.

Wordsworth did not gain renown until after 40.

Each did not compose until he was past 40.

Franklin was more than forty when he began his investigation of electricity.

Harvey published his discovery of the circulation of the blood at 50.

Rather awkward for that "very intellectual young man" of Oxford who recently told Sir Philip Gibbs that, in his opinion, "everybody over the age of 40 ought to be shot," don't you think?

INSPIRATION

Mr. Carrington—he is director of the American Psychical Institute—has a sense of humor. Following the title page of his book appears this:

My Collaborator in Life,

Without whose presence I could never have begun this book;
without whose absence I could never have finished it.

URGES ANGLO-AMERICAN UNION

To the Editor:—If it is so very urgent that th. Britis' Commonwealth and the United States should lead the world into the way of peace such a consummation is not recognized in the latter country. In fact, the idea, suggestion or desirability is all on the side of British statesmen and other enthusiasts. I am prepared to state that in any speech, talk or interview President Roosevelt may make in Victoria he will not make even a slight reference to a closer alliance or understanding between Britain and his country. We shall be told what fine people and neighbors Canadians are. But if any expect to hear "Ladies and gentlemen, the great British Empire and America should, nay, must work together for humanity and peace," such people will be disappointed, for American presidents, statesmen and senators know the American people are not eager for such talk or ideas. If they were, the two peoples would have worked together years ago.

MUSIC
(From Harper's Magazine)

Your ears are flooded and your mind spent
Before this cataract that flutes
invent;
The violins are sources for a stream
Whose waters drown your body in their theme.

Before the trumpets' flight of
plangent birds,
Imperious death speaks unimportant words;
And even love is speechless and remote
When strings let fly the proud,
the arrowy note.

Listen: the bell, the violin, the reed!
The radiant, sovereign sounds
proclaim you freed;
Your feet are feathered—let your body soar
Until the aching ear can hold no more.

ACTOR TO THE END
From Toronto Telegram

Not many knew John Drew, the actor, was stone blind in his last days, writes O. O. McIntyre in his New York column. It was known only to his family and few intimates. He would go to the theatre and during intermissions, to keep his blindness from being recognized, appear on the arm of a friend deep in conversation.

War Memorial
For Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI—Plans have been completed by the Canadian Legion for a war memorial to be placed on the grassy plot between the City Hall and Community Hall, set aside some years ago for this purpose. A simple stone pillar with cross and sword and at its base an open book with the names of those who lost their lives overseas, is contemplated by the legion. At the same time it is intended to beautify the spot with flowers and shrubs and place benches so that it may be a haven of rest as well as a beauty spot for all to appreciate.

British Party
Coming to City

NANAIMO—Twelve leading British agriculturists arrived in Nanaimo last night from Vancouver for a brief stay on Vancouver Island before returning to the mainland and back to the Atlantic coast for their sea voyage home.

Known as the British National Union, the party of agriculturists is touring the Dominion to gain first-hand information of farming conditions throughout Canada.

While en route to the Pacific Coast they visited the Guelph Agricultural College, the experimental farm at Brandon and the grain elevators at Fort William. Today they visited the Franklin River logging operations, eight miles from Port Alberni, returning to Nanaimo in the early evening, and on Wednesday night the party will motor down the island to Victoria, stopping off during the day at Chemainus and at Fairbridge Farm School, near Duncan. In the Capital City they intend to visit the famous Butchart's Gardens.

METCHOSIN—The annual harvest supper and entertainment of St. Mary's Church, Metchosin, will be held in the Metchosin Community Hall on Friday evening. Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Harbinger is expected to be present early in the proceedings and will present the medal of the Royal Humane Society to Louis Morell of Rocky Point, who showed heroism in rescuing the late Mrs. L. Brown and her two children in the fire which destroyed their home last April.

Earth Shocks

HOONAH, Alaska (AP)—Two sharp earthquake shocks which gave buildings a severe shaking were felt here at 5:32 Monday afternoon.

No serious damage was reported in this Chichagof Island town, 50 miles southwest of Juneau.

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—An earth shock which lasted more than a minute was felt here at 5:30 Monday afternoon. Buildings shook, lamps swayed and dishes rattled, but no serious damage was reported.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Proposal that a plebiscite be held in Vancouver to determine views on a universal 5:30 p.m. closing by-law was overwhelmingly defeated in the city council Monday.

Esquimalt Tax
Picture Good

Only $866 Still to Be Collected on General Rate; Arrears Surplus

Esquimalt ratepayers were congratulated by the municipal council last night on making possible one of the most encouraging interim tax reports submitted in many years.

The statement, presented to the council by G. H. Pullen, municipal clerk, in connection with a report on the annual tax sale, showed collections almost certain to exceed the estimate in the current rates, and already well past the estimate for the year in the arrears and delinquent bracket.

At September 10 collections of current taxes were only $866.50 short of the year's estimate of $69,947.62, and the arrears and delinquent payments were $1,199 ahead of a year's estimate of $15,600.

"The report is one of the best we have had in many years," said Reeve Alexander Lockley. He added that the showing was the more remarkable because the council had this year estimated on an 80 per cent collection, a percentage considerably higher than that budgeted for several years past.

Shows Pictures
At Rest Haven

Some exceptionally fine moving pictures photographed in color by Herbert J. Penderay during the recent tour made with Mrs. Penderay through Africa, north to Cairo and Europe, were shown by him to a large audience in the lounge of the Rest Haven Hospital last week.

The first reels shown consisted of pictures of the Coronation pageant in London and a trip through the city viewing many of the larger buildings decorated for the occasion.

From Cape Town, via Mossel Bay, Algoa Bay, Zululand, through Natal to Johannesburg and Pretoria into the Belgian Congo, including a three-day trip on the Congo River, thence via Cairo to Istanbul, some excellent scenes depicting native life and customs were projected. Pictures portraying Victoria Falls were also shown.

W. E. Perrin, business manager at Rest Haven, thanked Mr. Penderay for his kindness in providing a highly instructive and enjoyable evening.

CHEMISTS AID
OIL INDUSTRY

Vast Increase in Gasoline Supply Since "Cracking" Process Developed

ROCHESTER—The "cracking" process of gasoline manufacture saved the United States 1,300,000,000 barrels of crude oil last year, Dr. Gustav Egloff told the American Chemical Society here. "Cracked" gasoline production passed "straight distillation" from crude oil for the first time during 1936, he declared, when 239,000,000 barrels were refined by the former process.

Particular interest attached to this report because of belief that American oil reserves are becoming dangerously low. "Cracking" differs from ordinary distillation in that cracking is carried out under high pressure, breaking heavy oil molecules into the smaller ones of gasoline. It makes possible a more economical use of crude oil.

In addition, production of gasoline by building up gasoline molecules from hydrocarbon gases is increasing and will reach 420,000,000 gallons annually by the end of this year, Dr. Egloff reported. More than 9,000,000,000 gallons of the polymer gasoline, as it is called, could be manufactured annually in the United States, Dr. Egloff indicated.

NEW TEETH
IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Curtis Burt, 80-year-old relief worker, complained three weeks ago his gums were itching. Now he is cutting a new set of teeth. Three new molars have peeped through.

The Esquimalt Council will hold a special meeting next Monday night to discuss action to be taken over six parcels of improved property which have reverted to the municipality. Some of the buildings are stated to be eyesores, and at least one a fire menace.

Stamp News

Largest sale of a single five-cent postage stamp in the history of the Philatelic Agency was that recorded in Washington when the Virginia Dare commemorative was placed on second-day offering. A total of 575,275 stamps were sold for $28,763. The first day sale of this stamp at the Manteo, N.C., post office totaled $15,850. There were 317,000 stamps sold there and 226,730 covers canceled.

The Dare stamp, however, has failed to win collectors' general applause. While the design is lauded, the color, the quality of the paper and the gum have been criticized.

For the benefit of collectors desiring stamps of selected quality, the three-cent Constitution stamp was placed on sale at the Washington Philatelic Agency on September 18, the day after its first appearance in Philadelphia. The stamp is 0.84 by 1.44 inches, arranged horizontally and is printed in purple on rotary presses and issued in sheets of 50.

Forthcoming issues: Russia, a series to commemorate the non-stop flight over the North Pole to Vancouver in June; British Honduras, pictorial set; Malta, 15 values illustrating historical and religious subjects; Ecuador, 10 new airmails.

A complete list of all stamps on sale has been issued by the Philatelic Agency of the Canadian Post Office at Ottawa. Address financial branch of the agency at Ottawa.

Spanish loyalists have released 36 types in the last two months, while the rebels have issued no less than 34, mostly surcharges.

MUCH FOOD IS

Carloads of Fruit and Vegetables Sent From B.C. and East to Drought Areas

TORONTO (CP)—Carloads of fruit and vegetables, given by residents of more fortunate regions for distribution in Saskatchewan and Alberta drought areas are already moving from the eastern provinces, Manitoba and British Columbia.

The objective for this year has been set at 500 carloads, says a statement issued by Dr. W. W. Judd, general secretary of the Anglican Social Service Council, on behalf of the joint committee of the churches for western relief, which includes representatives of the Anglican, Baptist, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic and United Churches. Last year 300 cars were shipped.

The statement announced Lord Tweedsmuir had given his patronage to the movement.

A grant of $25 to the Salvation Army was made by the Esquimalt Council last night.

For 90 Seats in October 6
Polling 241 Have Been Nominated

TORONTO (CP)—Unofficial nomination lists today bore the names of 241 candidates who will seek election in the 90 Ontario ridings at the October 6 general election.

With nomination day set for Wednesday, Liberals have placed 86 standard bearers in the field and Conservatives 88.

In 37 constituencies the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation has entered the fray and additional candidates are expected before official nominations are over. In the 1934 general elections 38 C.C.F. followers bid for seats, with only one, Sam Lawrence in Hamilton-East, victorious.

Liberals, who sent 66 into the last House to govern the province, have completed their choices unless unforeseen developments bring additions before September 29. Conservatives, who had 17 supporters in the last Legislature, have yet to name a candidate in Kent West, where A. S. Gordon, member in the last House, is the Liberal selection. Other candidates include: Independent-Liberals, 6; Independent-Conservatives, 3; Farmer-Labor, 4; Independents, 4; Socialist-Labor, 3; Liberal-Progressives, 2; Labor, 2; Independent-Labor, 1; Communists, 2; Labor-Progressives, 1; Liberal-Labor, 1; United Farmers of Ontario, 1.

THREE IN BRANTFORD
In Brantford M. M. MacBride, who carries an Independent banner, has the endorsement of the Liberals. Mr. MacBride, a member in the last Legislature, is opposed by a Conservative and a C.C.F. candidate.

Farquhar Oliver, lone U.F.O. entry, is supported by Liberal adherents in Grey South. He represented the riding in the last House.

George A. Drew, who broke with Conservative Leader Earl Rowe on the C.I.O. question, is running as an Independent-Conservative in Wellington South. No straight Conservative candidate has been nominated, and Lieut.-Col. Drew will face Liberal, C.C.F. and Communist opponents.

Planes Rescue
Flying Doctor

NEWCASTLE WATERS, North Australia (CP-Reuters)—Dr. Clyde Fenton, "flying physician" of Australia's northern wilderness, who had been missing for six days, was found alive today at Cox River.

He was weak from exposure when Royal Australian Air Force planes found him, and had been living on a stray cow which he killed with a pocketknife when it became stuck in a bog.

Dr. Fenton had made a forced landing, but his plane was not damaged.

YOUNG MAN LOSES LIFE

LYTTON, B.C. (CP)—John Peters, 34-year-old Lytton baseball player, was almost instantly killed near here Monday afternoon when he was struck by a westbound Canadian National train. Details of the accident were not available immediately. Peters is survived by a widow and family here.

Barkless Dogs
Arrive in the U.S.

Two Pups From England, of African Descent, Taken to New York

NEW YORK (CP)—New Yorkers who take their anti-bark campaign seriously, had something to cheer about today. The barkless dog made its North American debut.

Incredible as it may seem, the dogs really don't bark. They are born that way; no bark-removing operations have to be performed. Nations of the Congo in Africa, the barkless wonders are known to the Africans as "bush things"—for the dogs are excellent hunters, although they can make themselves heard only with a sort of growl or rumble. Dog lovers never heard of these animals until last December, when a few braces of them were taken to England by Mrs. Olivia Burn, an Englishwoman who had found them in the Belgian Congo. In the last 10 months the Basenjis has been bred and shown in England, attracting considerable attention. Today two barkless but otherwise alert and playful puppies arrived from their English birthplace aboard the Berengaria.

The puppies were brought here for breeding purposes.

Man Named In Wells Verdict

WELLS, B.C. (CP)—Frank Dowling was held responsible for the death of Edward "Mickey" McNeil by a coroner's jury here Monday.

The jury found that "Edward McNeil came to his death by blows delivered on the face and head by one Frank Dowling." The body of McNeil, 41-year-old employee of the Cariboo Gold Quartz Mine here, and formerly a resident of the Nelson district in the West Kootenay, was found early last Friday 50 feet from the main street intersection here. He had been beaten to death.

Dowling, recently employed by the mining company, was charged with murder and remanded till October 2.

Argentina Sells
More to Canada

BUENOS AIRES (CP)—Canada was Argentina's third-best customer during August, statistics issued by the government show.

Canada bought Argentine goods valued at 16,000,000 pesos ($5,333,563 at the official rate of exchange) during the month, exceeded only by the United Kingdom, with 45,000,000 pesos, and the United States, 23,000,000. Canada's average monthly imports from Argentina total about 5,000,000 pesos.

FIRE LOSS $70,000

CAP ST. IGNACE, Que. (CP)—Loss estimated at about $70,000 was caused by a fire which on Monday razed the spinning mills of Methot Brothers in this south shore town, 35 miles below Quebec. The fire, thought to have started when a lighted match was carelessly tossed into a bale of wool, burned for three hours.

Y. W. Course To Train Leaders

Miss Helen Kirkwood
Will Direct
Leadership Classes

There is great need for leaders in Y.W.C.A. club groups and in the church groups of Victoria. The Y.W.C.A. is making an attempt to meet this need for leaders, and to give an opportunity to some to realize the satisfaction of leadership, by giving an eight weeks' course on training for leadership. The course will give practical suggestions for running groups, as well as discussion and demonstration, under the direction of well-known speakers. The whole course will be under the personal direction of Miss Helen Kirkwood, the new general secretary of the Y.W.C.A.

Classes will be held at the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesdays from 8 to 10 p.m., commencing on October 6. Registration is open to anyone interested, and it is hoped that members of the course will supplement the lectures by actual assistance during the week, in some group of their own choice.

The following is the outline of the course:—

October 6—"The Meaning of Leadership," Mrs. D. M. Duncan; interest group, "Recreational Material," Miss M. Ryan.

October 13—"The Leader, the Group and the Girl," Miss H. Kirkwood; interest group, "The Use of Story-telling," Mrs. W. J. Graham.

October 20—"Club Management," Miss Kirkwood; interest group, "Programme Building," Dr. H. R. Anderson; interest group, "Hobbycrafts," Miss M. Beveridge.

November 3—"Sex Relationships," interest group, "The Purpose of Youth Movements," "The Value of Church Membership," Speakers to be announced later.

November 10—"Personal Counseling and Vocational Guidance," Miss H. Kirkwood; interest group, "Service Projects," Miss M. Ryan.

November 17—"Services of Worship," Mrs. A. Sullivan; interest group, "The Value and Use of Music," Mrs. A. Peebles.

November 24—"The Y.W.C.A. and International Relationships," Miss Kirkwood; interest group, "Community Needs and Resources," Dr. Olga Jardine.

News of Clubwomen

The regular business meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital will be held next Friday afternoon at 3 at the hospital. As important matters are to be discussed a large attendance of members is requested.

The ladies of Court Triumph A.O.F. will hold an apron shower at the home of Mrs. Johnson, 1349 Woodlands Road, Wednesday afternoon, progress toward their bazaar, which will take place on Tuesday, November 2, in the A.O.F. Hall.

Pride of Victoria No. 55, Orange Juvenile Association, held its regular meeting in the Orange Hall on Saturday, with Miss L. Knowles presiding, assisted by Miss D. Kendall. Arrangements were made to hold the annual banquet in November when the Grand Director will pay her official visit. On October 6 an open meeting will be held, and all adult members of the L.O.I. and L.O.B.A. lodges are invited. After the meeting a silver tea will be held from 3.30 to 5. A musical programme is being arranged by Mrs. B. Noel, Miss D. Kendall and her committee will have charge of the tea. All members of No. 55 are asked to bring refreshments.

The Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club met last evening in the clubrooms, Miss Minnie Lawson, the president, in the chair. Plans were discussed for the dinner meet on October 4 and it was decided that "National Night" be celebrated in the clubroom in November. It was decided that the "open house" meetings be continued during the winter each Thursday evening. Six members announced that they will attend the annual banquet of the Vancouver Business and Professional Women's Club on October 16, and other members wishing to go were asked to telephone Miss Elsie Richardson at E 4151 or at E 2625 after 6 p.m.

Mrs. Horace B. McClung, who has been spending the last fortnight in Calgary visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McNamara, will leave the Alberta city tomorrow for her home in Victoria. En route she will spend a few days in Vancouver visiting Mrs. H. M. McClung.

The engagement is announced of Lillian Averna, elder daughter of Mrs. M. Gillan, Shelbourne Street, and the late C. H. Gillan, to Mr. Benjamin Stanley Dyer, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dyer, Scott Street. The wedding will take place early in October at St. Stephen's Church, Saanich.

Miss Gwen Hichens-Smith, nurse-in-training at the Vancouver General Hospital, is spending the next three weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hichens-Smith, 152 Cambridge Street. For the past week Miss Hichens-Smith has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Corbett, Pender Island, B.C.

Sees Soviet In Spanish Conflict

Marquesa Tells Of
Her Experiences
In Madrid Prison

WASHINGTON (AP)—An American-born woman, recently held prisoner in Madrid, declared yesterday that the Spanish war is a revolution fostered by Soviet Russia as a "stepping stone to world supremacy."

Marquesa de Cienfuegos, formerly Jane Anderson of Atlanta, Ga., told the National Council of Women she was held 43 days in a Spanish government "dungeon" before being released through intervention of American officials.

The Marquesa, a writer, said Spanish officers reported she was arrested under a Russian order "to execute a minimum of 250 civilians a day and to arrest every woman who is a Catholic and every woman who has a title in the family." She said she had gone to the front with the anarchist group that supports the government.

"The 'Loyalist' government is a government of phantoms," she continued. "These great forces are ruling Spain—under the direction of one man, under the direction of one supreme power—Marcel Rosenberg, first ambassador of the Soviets to the free republic of Spain."

Weddings

COOK—JENKIN

Mrs. C. M. Jenkin, 1325 Vining Street, announces the marriage of her youngest daughter, Helen Grace, to Mr. Jack L. Cook, son of the late Mr. G. Cook and Mrs. A. Cook of Winnipeg. The marriage took place quietly on September 20 at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. Jas. Hood. Mr. and Mrs. Cook will make their home in Victoria.

Australians At End of Long Tour

On the last leg of a tour around the world which started in February, Mr. and Mrs. Wynn Roberts and their daughter, Miss Joan Roberts, are at the Empress Hotel awaiting a ship to take them back to Australia.

The tour started as a trip to the Coronation. After that the three travelers covered most of Europe by boat, train and plane. "The whole trip was an eye-opener to us," they commented this morning.

Joan, who is 18 years old, has kept an extensive diary of the trip, parts of which have been published in Sidney newspapers.

Peasant Motif

Mrs. C. H. Underwood and Miss M. Underwood entertained at their home on Saturday evening in honor of Mr. C. H. Underwood, who was celebrating his birthday. An enjoyable evening was spent in playing court whist. Prize winners of the evening were: Mrs. F. Bell, Mrs. L. Harman, Mrs. A. Harman, Messrs. F. Fleury, Frank Lilley. The invited guests included Mr. and Mrs. L. Wratten, Mr. and Mrs. H. Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. F. Fleury, Mr. Grey, Mr. and Mrs. L. Harman, Mr. and Mrs. A. Harman, the Misses Lillian Harman, Marguerite Underwood, Messrs. Frank Lilley, Charles Underwood and Glen Underwood.

In honor of Miss Kathleen Hawkes, whose marriage will take place in October, Miss K. Caldwell entertained at a kitchen shower at her home recently. The gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a white and mauve rolling pin. During the evening games were played, the winners being Mrs. N. Clements, Mrs. F. Howland, Mrs. R. J. Caldwell, and Miss M. Sullivan. Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table, centred with mauve and white asters. The invited guests were: Mrs. F. Howland, Mrs. F. Hawkes, Mrs. L. Willson, Mrs. J. Watson, Mrs. Gault, Mrs. Wm. Blauw, Mrs. Sadler, Mrs. H. Earl, Mrs. R. Caldwell, Mrs. N. Clements, Mrs. R. J. Caldwell, Mrs. J. Lord, Mrs. J. Willmott, Misses E. Matthews, L. Sadler, B. Ferguson, M. Reid, M. Sullivan, J. Austin, E. Craghan, M. Hawkes, R. Bullock, and I. Stanhope.

If Betty West, young New York society beauty, didn't have that racing programme so conspicuous, any observer would be justified in thinking "What a pretty little peasant girl!" Her hand knit sweater with colorful embroidery and the striped, full skirted frock are typical of the unsophisticated clothes many debs favor.

The remainder of the evening was spent in games and later refreshments were served by the refreshment committee. Several new members were welcomed into the choir.

Seek Custody Of Boy Film Star

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Parents of Freddie Bartholomew, juvenile film actor, through their counsel filed notice in superior court yesterday that they would ask the court to set aside his adoption by his aunt Mylicent Mary Bartholomew.

The notice, filed by Attorney Avery M. Blount, on behalf of Cecil Llewellyn and Lillian May Bartholomew, said the motion would be based on grounds of fraud and because of the parents' "mistake, inadvertence, surprise and excusable neglect."

Blount explained that Freddie's parents, who live in London, were unfamiliar with United States laws and believed a signed agreement in which the aunt promised to return the son to them later if they asked for him, would be effective, despite his adoption by her.

Hearing on the motion was set for next Friday.

Pioneered In Careers For Women

Caroline Haslett Of Scotland Is Electrical Engineer

LONDON—One of the world's greatest pioneers in careers for women—Miss Caroline Haslett—delivered the opening speech of the Summer School of Electrical Housecraft for Teachers in the Glasgow and West of Scotland College of Domestic Science.

Miss Haslett has had a remarkable career and it can be safely said that it is largely through her efforts that women engineers have become accepted by industry.

She has been in turn the first secretary of the Women's Engineering Society and the first director of the Electrical Association for Women. She is also an adviser to the government on electrical training for women.

Besides writing numerous articles in engineering and industrial journals, she has found time to establish and edit 'The Woman Engineer' and 'The Electrical Age for Women.'

As a director of the Electrical Association for Women and hon. secretary of the Women's Engineering Society, Miss Haslett was obviously the most fitting woman in Great Britain to open the Scottish summer school.

Students attending the course came from all parts of the country—with warm coats, mackintoshes and thick shoes, according to the list of "luggage required" sent out by the organisers to every applicant for a place.

Less usual items on the list included a screwdriver, a pair of pliers and a penknife.

WOMEN SCIENTISTS

In the world of science, women are well represented at the British Association meetings at Nottingham. Just over 100 years ago, when the B.A. was founded, women could not be members. Now several of the speakers are women.

Also one woman, Dr. Mary Collins, of the department of psychology, Edinburgh University, is a president of a section. She is a specialist in child psychology and educational psychology.

Professor Winifred Cullis, the distinguished woman doctor, Dr. Winifred Brechley, head of the botanical department, Rothamstead experimental station, and Dr. D. M. Wrinch, an Einstein theory authority, were among the other famous women who took part in the discussions.

The secrets of life itself were probed at this year's sessions of the association. Heredity and the chemical structure of the body's cells and of proteins, one of the main materials on which life is built up, were analyzed by experts.

Dr. Wrinch read a paper on the problem of unravelling the structure of a protein molecule in terms of mathematics.

LOST JEWELS RETURNED

LONDON—Cash and jewelry to the value of $10,000, missing with a suitcase belonging to a woman arriving in London, was found and returned by a taxi-driver, who was suitably awarded.

"I'm looking for a sea-going complexion, Jane Seymour"

The woman who made that amusing remark came to my Salon and told me she was going on a cruise. "The bright glare of the deck always makes me look perfectly ghastly," she said. "What is the right make-up?"

"My dear woman," I said, "you can't get a seaworthy beauty out of a make-up box. A carefully tended skin is the only answer. Your skin is dry. It needs cleansing at night with Cleansing Cream and Juniper Skin Tonic. Plenty of Orange Skin Food to keep your skin supple."

Juniper again in the morning to whip up your circulation." That was my advice, and from the note I had from her this morning it seems my recipe for a sea-going complexion is making her trip a voyage of adventure.

Ask for my preparations at any smart cosmetic counter, and also for my book "Speaking Frankly." If you have any difficulty in obtaining it, please write me: Jane Seymour, Lumsden Bldg., Toronto, and I will gladly send you a copy with my compliments.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

DON'T RELY ON CHILD'S APPRECIATION OF HUMOR

Martha May's mother always commented upon her daughter's sense of humor. She was only seven years old, but she laughed at their dearest jokes and appreciated the least spark of humor in them.

Likewise, because she was a conscientious mother, she tried in all cases to tell her daughter the truth. The consequences of her blind reliance upon her daughter's ability to sift the real from the false came home to her with a bounce when something the child said to her chum Grace caught her suddenly a ear.

"We have to move," said Martha May, with considerable pride. "My father says if we stay here, he'll be flat broke. He thinks, maybe, we'll starve to death this winter. We have to get some tiny little house and begin to economize or we will."

"You're not going out of town?" said Grace.

"Not right now, but my father and mother are thinking of it. My father says no decent job here pays a man living wage, these days; you just have to get into some racket. He's looking around now for something that's just crooked enough so you can earn a living. Everybody's got some racket, he says."

"Isn't he afraid?" Grace whispered, obviously thrilled at this proximity to a neighbor about to engage in crime.

"My father isn't afraid of anything," his daughter commented proudly. "But my mother is. She says we ought to sell all our furniture and get out of this dead town. She's afraid though they've had it so long the furniture store won't take it back. They've been buying it on time."

"Martha May," came her mother's agonized voice. "Come in this house this minute! How can you say such terrible, terrible things? Don't you know your father and I were just kidding each other when we said those things? Don't you know when people are in fun?"

Better not rely too much on a child's ability to understand an adult's subtle humor.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1937

Benefic aspects appear to rule strongly today, according to astrology. Workers are well directed under this planetary government.

Demand for trained hands in many industries will be insistent all through the autumn. Wages will rise and hours will be shortened.

The configuration benefits older persons, who will be as prominent as counselors for men who wield power in directing massed groups in industry as well as government affairs.

Women have a mildly favorable guidance under this rule of the stars. The wise will be as humble as possible in whatever important wage-earning positions they occupy.

Competition between men and women will be less determined and relentless than it would be in ordinary circumstances, because army, navy and aviation service will absorb many young men.

Radio news services are to profit through increased demand for frequent reports. Novel inventions will improve sound devices.

Extreme heat may cause discomfort. Unusual freaks of temperature will worry more than one would state this autumn. Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of extreme good fortune.

For many, real estate ventures will prove successful. Women may expect many pleasant visits in distant places.

Children born on this day probably will be popular and able to use personality as well as talent in achieving success. Subjects of this sign of Libra usually have a Lord Nelson, British admiral, was born on this day, 1758. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include George Frederick Kunz, gem expert, 1856 and Charles Edward Roosevelt, banker, 1855.

Women Gaining Control of Wealth; Outliving Men

WOMEN at the present time control 70 per cent of the United States wealth, according to a survey by Isaac F. Marcossin in the October American Magazine.

Citing figures to prove this feminine financial dominance, he suggests the possibility of tomorrow's young man hurrying with notebook and pencil to the trilled command of the company's president, or waiting shyly for a proposal of marriage from the rich and rising young female vice-president of a large corporation.

"It may startle the atavistic males," Mr. Marcossin writes, "to learn that women are today beneficiaries of 80 per cent of the nation's $104,500,000,000 outstanding life insurance, on which $2,000,000,000 is being paid out each year. Any insurance company will tell you that women are outliving the men. The private wealth of the nation is only $280,000,000,000 and women already own enough of that to make the he-Titans tremble. But the women don't know it."

"Today 15,000,000 stockholders own the corporations of America, and nearly 49 per cent of them are women. In some of the seasoned corporate institutions the women stockholders outnumber the men. Sixty-five per cent of the $14,242,800,000 of mutual savings bank accounts and 40 per cent of the titles to all homes are in women's names.

"On top of all this, women control 85 per cent of the country's buying power. A pull-in-the-purse-strings strike by the women of the land would make the most drastic sit-down look like a feeble manoeuvre. And what is more, women are increasingly going into business for themselves, and making a go of it."

"Fifty-four per cent of the preferred stock in 39 leading corporations is held by women. Of the A. T. & T.'s 640,991 stockholders, for instance, 364,178 are women. In U.S. Steel, men own 3,725,365 shares; women 3,013,242. Women measure largely in the General Motors list, rolling up a total of 152,512 stockholders as compared with 170,115 men. And so it goes. The mer may soon be trying to amuse themselves while their wives are busy at a board meeting."

After giving further evidence that the women's dollar cavalcade pushes on with banners flying stock and bonds certificates and ready deeds, Mr. Marcossin wonders if the country is headed for a financial patriarchy.

"I hesitate to prophecy," he concludes. "But I console myself with this thought: If women do become the titular heads of the nation industrially they won't have much more than they've had all along. Indirectly and actually, they've owned the earth since time began. And we men will continue to pull the heavy loads, as we always have, and we'll be doing it, as of old, for the sake of a woman, no matter who owns the stock."

SMASHING five track records in his last 12 starts while running over six different courses, Seabiscuit rightfully has earned the plaudits that are his today. But, how good is he? Can he do with higher weight what other outstanding horses have done back down the trail of time? The highest weight Seabiscuit has carried to victory in these races was 130 pounds.

The record shows where Exterminator three times won the Autumn Handicap at Toronto—with 132 pounds up at 5, 137 pounds at 6 and 132 pounds again as a seven-year-old.

Discovery won the Brooklyn Handicap with 136, the Bunker Hill with 131, and the Merchants and Citizens with 139. Old Sosebud, a "come-backer" at the time, won the Delaware with 135. Lucullite accounted for the Edgemere at Aqueduct with 135. Kalsang won the Jerome with 135. Equipose scored under 132 in the Suburban and in the same fixture Whisk Broom II won under 139 pounds.

The above are not all of the outstanding accomplishments of great horses under high weight, but the number is sufficient to prove Seabiscuit has some more ground to cover before he becomes entitled to the rank of the truly great among handicap performers.

But none can take anything away from Seabiscuit on what he has done. Considering the class of horses he has to beat this year, the California runner is a "Pop Eye" of the courses, handing the old "Joe Louis" to drooping Father Time almost as a matter of routine in his cruises over the bounding billows of fame.

Like the "Iron Horse," Claude, of another day, and in later years Commodore Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Exterminator, Seabiscuit is proving a right-good sailor—he is an excellent traveler. Nothing perturbs the grandson of Man o' War, which, no doubt, is one reason why he is a great race horse.

In inaugurating his devastating charge upon Father Time at Bay Meadows during last November, Seabiscuit set a new register for the mile (1:36). He came right back in a race at one mile and three-sixteenths to lower another Bay Meadows mark, 1:35.45.

Moving to Santa Anita, Seabiscuit waited until March before he cracked another track mark—that for one mile and an eighth, 1:48.45.

Polishing his shield for a Metropolitan foray, Seabiscuit, a couple of seasons earlier a ordinary junior on eastern tracks, one that started more than 30 times at two, stepped forth to shave the ancient record of 1:44.35 for one mile and a 16th at Empire City. This he did. The time was 1:44.15. He had up 129 pounds. He made a show of his company.

This race, in some respects, has more merit than any other mark Seabiscuit ever ran. The old race at the Yonkers track had stood for more than 20 years. Many a great horse had shot at the target, yet fell short. The mark was established by Borrow in 1914. He had up 114 pounds.

Under 122 pounds, James Butler's Spur equalled the Borrow record in 1917.

Following his impressive Empire City triumph, Seabiscuit moved to Suffolk Downs where he ran a mile and an eighth in 1:49, another new course record.

Twice successively breaking records on two different tracks within nine months indicates Seabiscuit has wings, like the flying horse of the fairy tales. At any rate he fairly can fly.

Dominoes Fail To Place Their Entry In League

Delegates at Loop Meeting Charge Senior Club With Dictatorial Plans

Heated Words

Victoria's basketball affairs, which have been simmering like the old copper kettle on the back of mother's kitchen stove, reached the par-boiling stage at the Y.M.C.A. last night when the Victoria and District League pulled off a general meeting.

At the finish the league had officially closed its list of entries for the season with no Dominoes in the senior A division. However, the senior division, unexpectedly drew three other clubs, Hoyle-Brown, Sons of Canada and Cubs (management unknown).

The meeting last night started off like any other ordinary session but before the motion for adjournment was called words flew thick and fast between Manager Dave Nicol, representing the Dominoes, and other delegates. Personalities entered the discussion on more than one occasion and at times the arguments appeared more like a Chinese-Japanese war parley than a get-together to organize another basketball season.

First suggestion of the impending verbal war came when the delegates were asked to consider the new constitution of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association as adopted by the British Columbia Basketball Association at its recent annual meeting. The new set-up has resulted through the breaking away of the C.B.A. from the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

Manager Nicol and Chuck Chapman, the other representative of the Dominoes, at the meeting, wanted to know how their club would be affected under the new arrangement in regard to exhibition games with Seattle teams, who are all affiliated with the A.A.U. As a result of this questioning the decision as to whether or not the Victoria League adopt the new constitution was left on the table.

Although this decision was not made, the Dominoes still did not see fit to enter their team in the league.

DOMINOES HAVE GYM

The Dominoes have already stolen a march on the league by securing the use of the Victoria High School gym for the season for Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings. On Monday and Thursday nights the gym is at the disposal of the Provincial Recreation Centres, leaving the league only Wednesday night.

In previous seasons the league has held the High School gym on Wednesdays and Saturdays, using it on Friday nights when necessary.

The question of the gym was brought up last night at the meeting. George Gordon and Les Bradley, two of the delegates, asked Manager Nicol: "What are the other twenty-one clubs in the league going to do?" The only reply the Dominoes' manager would make was: "Ask your president."

The feeling of last night's meeting was practically 100 per cent against the Dominoes, the delegates being of the opinion the senior A club was attempting to run the league to suit itself.

MAKES STATEMENT

Jack Taylor, president of the league, made the following statement this morning: "The Victoria and District League has sponsored basketball in Victoria for 13 years and I am going to do everything in my power to see the loop continues to operate," he said. "In order for the league to function it must derive the financial benefits exhibition games between Dominoes and outside teams bring in."

"This is the first time, to my knowledge, that a senior A club

Soccer Squads Clash Tomorrow

A doubleheader at the Athletic Park tomorrow afternoon will officially usher in the Wednesday League football season. In the opening engagement Navy footballers will oppose Hudson's Bay at 2, and Spencers will stack up against the Caplanos, a new entry in the league, in the second tussle which should start at about 4. Dave McMillan will handle the whistle in the first game and Percy Shrimpton will officiate in the second. Spencers line-up follows: Stewardson, Reside, Cann, L. Bradley, Lloyd, D. Bradley, Browne, Chapman, Williams, Collins and Ball, Substitutes, Clarke, McMillan and Whittle.

Silver Bond Is Distance Champ

Sets New Track Record For Closing Marathon at Willows Track

With a big crowd on hand at the Willows track yesterday afternoon the curtain was rung down on the 1937 racing season.

J. W. Jones's Silver Bond, ridden by apprentice jockey Sherlock, won the final feature over the two miles and 30-yard race, repeating the victory he scored at the marathon distance at Hastings Park earlier in the month. He had to be hustled to beat his old rival in distance races, R. H. Ross's Silva, which was second by half a length. Enlo was another half length back in one of the most thrilling finishes Victoria has seen in a two-mile race for years Silver Bond set a new track record for the distance, 3:32.35.

O. D. Barnett's Miss Doublet captured the other marathon of the closing card, winning easily from the Hawaiian-bred Mahukona.

Dead heats, of which Victoria had more this year than ever before, were not missing. In the fifth Oh Dave and Suneur finished second together and there was the unique occurrence of a double pay-off in the one-two bet. Holders of tickets on Love Sick and the winner, and Oh Dave, got $7.70, and on Suneur $8.70. In the first race Umpire and Spaz dead-heated for third position.

As the meeting closed, it was learned that betting for the two weeks was considerably higher than last year, although it slackened off in the last three days when pari-mutuels were substituted for the totalizator, with which Victoria racegoers are more familiar.

Jockey Emil Sporri finished as the leading rider of the meeting and was presented with a handsome silver fox fur for his wife by A. E. Alexander, of Foster's Fur Store.

TWO TENNIS GREATS PLAY

Don Budge and Von Cramm Go Into Action in Coast Championships

BERKELEY, Calif. — Two great amateurs, J. Donald Budge of Oakland, Calif., and Germany's Baron Gottfried von Cramm, will play their first-round matches today in the Pacific Coast tennis championships.

Budge, the gangling red-haired youth who was instrumental in America's Davis Cup triumph, will oppose Henry Guimette of San Francisco and Von Cramm will play H. W. Bando, local Japanese.

Later, Budge will pair with Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., and Von Cramm with his Davis Cup teammate Henner Henkel, in men's doubles play at separate ends of the bracket.

Already in the second round of men's singles were Robert Riggs of Los Angeles and Sabin, Riggs disposed of Dan Roberts, Oakland, and Sabin eliminated Bill Eastman of Berkeley yesterday. England's pretty Kay Stammers, playing her first singles round yesterday, defeated stubborn 17-year-old Anne Morgan of Berkeley, in straight sets, 8-6, 6-3.

Anita Lizana, newly-crowned United States women's champion, will enter the local picture today in a match with Margaret Stein, San Francisco. The Japanese Davis Cup duo of Jiro Yamagishi and Fumitero Nakano moved into the third round in singles and doubles.

Double-header Win Boosts Giants' Edge

Ross Out With Fractured Hand

CHICAGO — Barney Ross, world welterweight champion, will be out of the ring for two months due to a fractured left hand suffered in the second round of his battle with Cefterino Garcia in New York last Thursday. The black-haired Chicagoan submitted to X-ray examination yesterday which showed a definite break. The hand was placed in a cast.

Rugby Entries To Close Monday

At a meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union yesterday evening, Major Stuart Robertson, president, reminded all clubs that entries in the league would definitely close next Monday at 5. The season is scheduled to open Saturday, October 9.

C. E. Ley was last night reappointed chairman of the referees' board. In charge of this work last year, Ley was asked to continue in office by members of the union executive.

New Westminster And Orillia Win

Former Whip Richmond-Homes 18 to 13 For Inter-city League Boxla Crown

VANCOUVER—New Westminster's Salmonbellies won the Inter-city Box Lacrosse League championship and the right to meet Trail for the British Columbia title last night as they turned back Richmond-Homes 18 to 13 in the fourth game of the series.

Salmonbellies took the first game and Richmond the second, with the Westminstermen winning the next two in the best-of-five clash.

The intercity champs will open their series with Trail Thursday in the interior town. A fighting Richmond squad held the Fishermen in check for the first two periods and the Westminstermen were ahead by only a slim two-goal margin, 8 to 6, at half-time.

Sparked by young Harry Campbell, who counted three goals in the period, Salmonbellies "opened up" and outscored Richmond 6 to 3 to increase their lead. A desperate last-period drive by the Vancouver team failed to cut down the margin as the Westminstermen scored goal for goal. "Harry Campbell led the winners with four goals, while Blackie Black was the mainstay of the Richmond-Homes squad with four tallies.

ORILLIA WINS

TORONTO—Orillia Terriers, their all-Ontario senior lacrosse crown tilted at a belligerent angle, pointed for the eastern Canada title today in a best-of-three series with Montreal Canadiens. The Terriers whipped Cornwall Indians, all-star team of eastern Ontario, 25 to 6, here last night in the final match for the Ontario honors.

The Terriers lost the first Ontario title game in an 11 to 10 upset at home. Over-confidence lost them that game, the Terriers said. They went down to Cornwall, beat the Indians 17 to 6, then took the deciding game in a manner that left no doubt as to their superiority.

Holders of the Mann Cup for the last three years, Orillia showed the lacrosse world they were in no mood to be knocked out of the running for a fourth try at the Canadian championship.

They outscored the Indians 6 to 0 the first quarter, 10 to 3 at half-time and 22 to 4 by the end of the third session.

Only hard work in the Indian nets by Chuck Gamache kept the tally as low as it was. The Terriers scored almost at will and as play dragged in the fourth quarter, part of the 4,000 fans at the game started for home confident of the outcome.

Saturday Soccer Opens October 9

First division clubs in the Victoria and District Football League will swing into action on October 9, it was decided last night at a general meeting. Entries must be in the hands of Pat Mulcahy, secretary, by Monday, October 4. This applies to both first and second division teams.

Five teams will operate in this season's first division loop. The Garrison is the new entry and Victoria West, Esquimalt, Saanich Thistles and Victoria City the other teams. Joe Bloom, manager of the City club, is the new president and Mulcahy is the secretary pro tem.

PLAY TO DRAW

ACCRINGTON — Accrington Stanley and Chester fought to a scoreless draw in an English Football League, third division, northern section, game played here today.

Picard-Nelson Win

BELMONT, Mass. — Two Pennsylvania golfing neighbors and Ryder Cup teammates, Henry Picard of Hershey, and Byron Nelson of Reading, yesterday qualified for the final round of the $12,000 Belmont open match play tourney with lopsided victories over more eminent rivals. Picard advanced into the battle for the winner's share of the largest purse ever put up for a final in the history of United States golf, $5,000, by overwhelming Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, the United States open champion, 7 and 6, with a six-under-par performance for the 30 holes of their semi-final. Nelson drubbed "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper of Chicago, Canadian open king and the season's leading money-winner, 5 and 4.

Climb Four-and-one-half Games Up on Cubs As Chicago Whips Cincinnati

Like the man trying to go up on the down escalator, the Chicago Cubs are sliding back each time they make a forward step.

They thought they'd taken a pretty good one when they whipped the Cincinnati Reds yesterday 7 to 4—thought so, that is, until the New York Giants up and took both halves of their double-header with the Boston Bees. All of which meant that, despite winning, Charley Grimm's grimmer-growing crew had lost another half game.

Today they were trailing by four and a half, with only six left to play to the Giants' nine. If the Giants win four, they're in, no matter what the Cubs do. Similarly, any combination of four—Giants wins and Cub losses—will get the Terry-men into the throne room for the second time.

The picture, in fact, is getting prettier by the minute for the Giants, who proved by stopping the Bees 5 to 4 and 3 to 1, that they can win two games on 10 hits with just as much éclat as the American League's world series entry. The New York Yanks win one with 20.

While the Cubs were handing the Reds their seventh loss in a row, the Brooklyn Dodgers gracefully dropped their 12th to the Philadelphia Phillies 11 to 3, in a game remarkable chiefly for Chuck Klein's two homers and Long Tom Winsett's debut as a pitcher. He gave up two of the runs.

The Cleveland Indians, playing their last home game, bowed to the Detroit Tigers 2 to 1. Buck Newson, after beating the Philadelphia Athletics 6 to 2 with a five-hitter in the first game, tried to come back in the nightcap for the Boston Red Sox, but gave up six walks in less than three innings and the Sox were shut out 6 to 0.

The Yanks and Washington Senators were rained out, while the other clubs were not scheduled.

The Story of Glass II—GLASS BLOWERS

Early settlers in North America sometimes used oiled paper as window panes. People in Europe at that time knew how to make glass panes, but glass was expensive, and was used only by the rich.

Workman Blowing a Lantern Globe

The oil-paper windows of the pioneers kept out some of the chill air during winter, and let in some of the sunlight; but they did not do either job as well as glass.

How would you like to use oil-paper in place of the clear glass windows of your home? It might be interesting for a day, but after that I feel sure you would want to go back to glass.

Today, as in ancient times, glass is made chiefly from melted sand. Soda and lime are mixed with the sand and placed in tanks which may hold as much as 250 tons. When the mixture is heated to 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit, the result is a liquid with hardly more color than clear water.

When the liquid cools to a certain point, it may be dipped for use in glass-making. It is then very much like a thick, sticky syrup.

Glass-blowers are interesting persons to watch. At the end of metal pipes they pick up small masses of the liquid glass. Before your eyes you see the liquid turn into all sorts of shapes until at last it becomes a pitcher, a water glass or a what-not.

If you were to watch a glass-blower make a window pane, without being told in advance what he was doing, you could hardly guess until the very last moment.

To make a window pane, the blower dips up a quantity of the liquid and blows through the pipe. A large glass "bubble" appears, but the blower does his work in such a way that the glass takes the shape of a cylinder rather than a ball.

The cylinder is placed on a flat surface and the ends are cut off. Then a line is cut from top to bottom and a split is made in the glass. By heating the glass again the blower is able to flatten it out—and there is your window glass!

Ald. Hugh Bell Dies at Trail

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Alderman Hugh Bell, 62-year-old veteran member of the Trail City Council, died in a hospital Monday night after a brief illness. He had been elected to the council for the past four terms and had also served several terms prior to 1914.

Mr. Bell came to British Columbia more than 23 years ago. He is survived by the widow and two sons, Robert of Trail and Arthur of Vancouver.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—We have had an argument over the meaning of personality. A says that personality is looks in one person, flow of speech in another, frequently education; clothes in one case, while in another it is disposition. B contends that personality is not any of these things alone. For instance, a person can have a pleasant disposition and still not have personality. Or one could graduate from 10 colleges and still be without personality. While, on the contrary, some people who are homely and not particularly clever or cultivated have personality. What is that certain something which makes personality?

A. M. S.

Answer—No one knows. No one has ever been able to define personality or to tell in what it consists. You cannot put your finger upon it. It is just an intangible something about certain individuals that makes them different from the balance of the herd and that gives them a magic that attracts us to them.

Elinor Glyn tried to give a name to this mysterious quality, and she called it "IT." The public promptly defined this as meaning sex appeal. Mrs. Glyn denies bitterly that she intended the word to mean that. She says that she first used the word to describe a man who was not good-looking but who possessed some mysterious force and magnetism that came from the spirit and which made him irresistible, and that sex appeal had nothing whatever to do with it.

She says that "IT" must express self-consciousness and self-confidence; it is something fascinating and mysterious, always recognizable but never acquired.

That is personality. Even children have it. One baby will be flabby and namby-pamby, as much like thousands of other babies as peas in a pod, while the infant in the next crib will have something that attracts your attention, that awakens your interest and that makes you want to chuck it under the chin or take it home for adoption.

Certainly beauty has little to do with personality, because the great rank and file of good-looking are generally utterly commonplace. You are content to admire them at a distance without desiring to know them better. While often a homely man or woman is utterly fascinating. Indeed, a classic story is told of a man phenomenally ugly who used to boast that given 15 minutes with any woman he could outdistance the handsomest man in the race for her favor.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a girl of 16, the oldest of four motherless children. The youngest is 12. Our father is thinking of getting married, but we are opposed to it because we fear that it will break up the harmony of the home. We don't want to be selfish, but it just doesn't seem as though he should get married again. Will you please give us your viewpoint on this subject.

KIDDISH.

Answer: If your father is making a wise choice of a second wife, if he has selected a good sensible woman, it will be the best for him and the best for you for him to marry.

Of course, the idea of a stepmother is repugnant to you because tradition has made the cruel stepmother into an ogre who devours the helpless little children who fall into her hands.

But the mean stepmother occurs far oftener in fiction than she does in real life. Most women who marry widowers try to substitute for the mother the young ones have lost and do a mother's part by them. I have known only one or two harsh stepmothers, but I have known dozens of stepmothers who sacrificed more for their stepchildren than their own mothers would have done, and who loved them and were loved by them.

You must think that you children are nearly grown. In a very few years you will be about the business of life for yourselves. Even now you are occupied with your own interests and pleasures, and this leaves your father very lonely, and he will be still more lonely after you marry and leave him.

If you keep him from marrying, are you going to stay home with him of evenings to bear him company? Are you going to be an old maid in order that you may take care of him and keep his house? Consider these things and you will see that if he marries it leaves you free to go your own way, and that a stepmother comes to you as a friend and not an enemy.

Drive to Balance Budget of U.S.

Treasury Secretary Tells Roosevelt Red Ink Entries Should End in 1938

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States government's two chief fiscal officers will urge President Roosevelt to balance the budget in the next fiscal year, informed officials said today, even if it requires new and heavier taxes.

These persons said Treasury Secretary Morgenthau and Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board are convinced a balance between income and spending is essential to bolster business confidence and permit a paring down of the $36,864,000,000 public debt.

Mr. Morgenthau, seeking to eliminate the red-ink entries written on federal account books since 1931, already has started a series of conferences about balancing the budget in 1938-39.

The deficit stands now at $247,000,000, compared with President Roosevelt's estimate of $418,000,000 for the entire fiscal year. Treasury authorities said they were hopeful the deficit could be held under the President's estimate.

THE RED CROSS WORKSHOP

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Victoria and District Unemployed Association will hold a special meeting at its headquarters, 564 Yates Street, tomorrow night at 8.

The Victoria West Liberal Social Club will hold a card party this evening in the clubrooms, 414 Skinner Street, starting at 8. A ton of coal will be given away tonight.

R. Davie, who has been working among the natives of Liberia for the last 14 years, will give an account of his work in the Redfern Street Hall, Redfern Street, tomorrow night at 8, illustrated with splendid slides.

A charge against Theka and Bisa Singh, Hindu wood dealers, of contravening the order of the Minimum Wage Board in respect to truck drivers, was dismissed by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

Dismissal was based on the grounds of lack of satisfactory corroboration in the prosecution evidence given by A. Kerslake and Wilbert Drummond. Their testimony was that they had received only $5 weekly, although signing receipts for $15 weekly, the minimum allowed by the board. Other charges of a similar nature against the accused were withdrawn at the request of the Department of Labor. Gordon Cameron appeared for the defense.

Fights Against Further Trial

Appealing on New Charge. After Acquittal, Is Contested

Dismissal of the crown's appeal against judgments acquitting Johnny Degeorgio and Nick Servillo on charges of being in possession of stolen goods and against attempts to proceed with trial de novo on a charge of theft, was requested by J. R. Nicholson, for the respondents, as argument was continued on the case before the Court of Appeal today.

The crown, respondents' counsel claimed, was seeking leave to proceed with a trial on the same facts. Mr. Nicholson contended a ruling of the Court of Appeal in 1925 eliminated possibility of such a course. In the court below, the prosecuting officer had had the opportunity to call for election on any number of charges for which grounds were found in the depositions, he said. The crown had originally charged theft but had withdrawn that count in favor of possession. Since the men had been tried and acquitted on the possession charges and the prosecuting officer had not listed other counts, the appeal was not in order, he contended.

First Shot Fired In Civic Contest

Ald. Williams to Run; Mayor Probable Candidate Again

The first shot in Victoria's 1937 civic election campaign, culminating in the voting on December 9, was fired by Alderman Ed. Williams, chairman of the public works executive committee, with his announcement today that he would stand for re-election.

Nominations will be received for the five council seats, the mayoralty chair and school board posts up to 2 o'clock on the afternoon of December 2.

Mayor Andrew McGavin, approached on the subject earlier in the week, stated he was not yet prepared to make an announcement. It is understood, however, that the present incumbent will seek a second term.

Alderman Williams announced no platform today, merely saying he intended to enter the lists in December. He was elected for the 1936-37 term.

One vacancy at least is virtually assured on the council Alderman W. T. Straith, elected for a one-year term in last December's by-election, has previously stated he does not intend to seek return.

TERMS EXPIRE

The two-year terms of Aldermen T. W. Hawkins, Stanley H. Okell and R. A. C. Dewar also expire this year, but their intentions were not known today.

In addition to being chairman of the public works executive this year, Alderman Williams is a member of the finance and legislative committee, the water board, the 75th anniversary committee, one of the city's representatives on the board of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau and a member of the court of revision on the voters' list.

He is also chairman of a special committee appointed by the council to investigate complaints over Saanich sewers as they affect Victoria, and is a member of the special committee on civic employees' wages.

Not Satisfied Signature True

Not prepared to accept certain signatures as genuine, Chief Justice Morrison, in Supreme Court here today, dismissed the action of James Fisher seeking recovery of $500, plus interest of $153.55, for an alleged promissory note.

The Chief Justice was not satisfied that the signature of F. M. McMahon, on the note, was genuine. Co-defendants were V. J. Freeman and E. B. Gibbs, for whom no defence was offered. The signatures submitted to him were "good imitations," the Chief Justice said, adding "Why these people should pick on McMahon and indulge in wholesale forgery is beyond my comprehension."

The note was allegedly made in Wallace, Idaho, and assigned to Fisher by the person in whose favor it was signed.

Premier In Ottawa Monday

Pattullo to Fly East From Here This Week-end On Government Mission

Premier Pattullo will be in Ottawa next Monday morning to take up various problems with the federal government affecting British Columbia, including the proposed merger with the Yukon, he said today.

After welcoming President Roosevelt here Thursday afternoon, the Premier will take the Friday night boat to Vancouver. Catching a plane there Saturday, he will be in New York Sunday, spending the evening there and arriving in Ottawa Monday.

Tomorrow night the Premier will go on the radio from his office here over a B.C. network. He will give a general resume of government activities since the election, with some hints of what it proposes for the coming session of the Legislature. The broadcast is timed for 9 to 9.30.

Vancouver Relief Plan Is Extended

The provincial government has extended until the end of this year an agreement with the city of Vancouver by which the government makes a lump sum grant each month to be used for relief work, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said today.

The scheme has been carried on for some months and was to expire at the end of September. A Vancouver council delegation recently asked the government to carry it along for another three months, and this has now been granted.

DR. R. M. PETRIE VISITED EAST

Astronomer Back at Saanich Observatory After Attending Meeting

Dr. R. M. Petrie is back at his post at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Little Saanich Mountain, after a five-weeks' trip to observatories in the eastern and central United States, which culminated in his attendance at the annual meeting of the American Astronomical Society at Williamstown, Mass.

He read seven papers on a wide variety of astronomical subjects, compiled by members of the Saanich staff, at the Williamstown meeting, which marked the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Hopkins Observatory there.

The meeting was attended by 125 astronomers from all parts of the United States and Canada, who assembled to do honor to an observatory which, while small, is one of the oldest on the continent.

REVISITS UNIVERSITY

Dr. and Mrs. Petrie traveled across the northern states to Ann Arbor, Mich., on a visit to the university where Dr. Petrie took his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees. During three days there he renewed a number of old friendships.

From Ann Arbor they went to Pontiac, Mich., to see the McMath-Hulbert Observatory, specializing in solar motion pictures, and thence to Toronto to visit the Dunlap Observatory, whose staff includes three former Victorians: Dr. R. K. Young, the director; Dr. Frank S. Hogg and Dr. Helen Sawyer Hogg.

After the meeting at Williamstown, Dr. and Mrs. Petrie stayed briefly with the relatives of Mrs. Petrie in Pennsylvania, then paused at the Yerkes Observatory, Chicago, on the way home.

SEEK CONTROL OF SPORT FISH

B.C. May Take Over Hatcheries From Dominion Under New Plan

Plans to put the control of sport fishing and propagation under the provincial game commission have advanced to the stage where a definite plan will be placed before the Ottawa government shortly, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said today.

On his trip east next week Premier Pattullo will take up the question with the federal Minister of Fisheries, and the government here is hopeful that a satisfactory arrangement can be made.

The province, said the Attorney-General, will then be ready to embark on a proper programme of fish propagation and development of sport fishing as a tourist asset.

"Particularly from a tourist standpoint, and in other ways as well, sport fish are one of our big natural assets. We want to develop them along sound lines, Mr. Wismer said.

Two main factors enter into the proposed arrangement with the Dominion. One is that the province should take over some of the fish hatcheries which are to be closed by the federal government and go into the business of raising trout and other sport fish for their restocking schemes. The other is that the province should have some say in the control of sport fishing and in the regulation of catches, closed seasons and prohibited areas.

Up to now the Dominion has had control over inland fisheries, although the ownership of the fish themselves is vested in the province. Briefly, what the province now wants is a co-operative arrangement with Ottawa by which it can handle the fishing itself.

The game commissioner, meanwhile, is making a survey of the fish hatcheries, Mr. Wismer said, to recommend which ones would be most suitable for the purpose. There are six of them in the province, but not all would be needed right away.

Fish and game associations are re-acted solidly behind the plan. They have stressed the importance of the sport in promoting tourist trade as well as building up permanent sport fisheries for enjoyment of British Columbians.

One Year For Theft of Car

After declining to have an elderly gentleman in the courtroom to speak on his behalf, Robert J. Martin was sentenced to one year's imprisonment with hard labor on a charge of stealing a car, in the City Police Court this morning.

He was remanded for sentence from yesterday and when his case was called this morning a man rose in the rear of the courtroom and asked to be permitted to speak for the accused.

Magistrate Henry Hall asked the defendant if he wished to have the man heard and Martin replied he would rather not, although he appreciated the spirit of the offer.

The magistrate said he had been impressed by the appearance of the accused, despite his previous bad record. He imposed minimum sentence of a year in the hope the accused would learn his lesson and learn that crime did not pay.

Suggests City Reopen Halls

Re-establishment of Victoria West and Duchess Street fire halls is sought by the Canadian National Railways through its vice-president, A. E. Warren, of Winnipeg, in a letter received at the City Hall today.

The letter expresses the company's appreciation of the value of fire protection and speaks specifically of the two halls closed by the city this year.

"The Canadian National Railways associates itself with other industries and individuals who have made representations in has broken away from the league," Taylor stated.

Regarding the use of the High School gym, President Taylor stated that the league had applied to the Victoria School Board for its regular nights several weeks ago, but as yet no reply had been received confirming or rejecting the application. Until such word had been given, the league was helpless to go ahead with plans for the coming season.

During the evening it was announced that Les Gordon, one of the members of the executive, has resigned owing to pressure of business.

The entry list as filed last night follows:

A subdivision plan for the property at Macaulay Point formerly occupied by the militia was approved by the Esquimalt Council last night. The survey will be carried out by F. Gray Aldous.

MAY WARD OFF POLIO MENACE

Monkey Experiments Give New Hope For Infantile Paralysis Vaccination

BROOKLYN, N.Y.—New hope of an effective vaccination against infantile paralysis is contained in research on monkeys by Dr. Sidney D. Kramer of Long Island Medical College here.

It is a simple and safe procedure as it would be applied to children, if and when its development reaches that stage. At present the experimentation is limited to monkeys; the only animals that can be used for infantile paralysis research because, aside from human beings, they alone have been found to contract the disease.

The new preventive process, not yet ready for human trials, is a sort of intranasal vaccination. It would consist of spraying into the nose a harmless solution of a hormone extract, called pituitrin S and a mixture of adrenalin and ephedrine, called adrephrine. It is not to be confused with the zinc sulphate nose spraying used during the present epidemic, because such treatment does not give permanent immunity.

With the support of the President's Birthday Ball Commission for Infantile Paralysis Research, Dr. Kramer has been conducting an extensive investigation of various aspects of poliomyelitis, working in the Long Island College of Medicine's Hoagland Laboratory, which dates back to 1887, and is the first and oldest medical research laboratory in America.

One problem was: Why do monkeys, 100 out of 100 of them, fall ill to infantile paralysis when exposed, whereas incidence of the disease in the human population is only about one out of 1,000 in adults and one out of 500 in children? Dr. Kramer's latest researches "make a man out of a monkey," as he put it, so far as polio immunity is concerned.

He has a method of making half to three-quarters of the monkeys immune. It consists of nose spraying with the harmless solution of pituitrin and adrephrine twice a day, followed some four hours after the first spraying by a dose of infantile paralysis virus that would be invariably fatal to untreated monkeys. Most of the monkeys so treated not only resist the attempted infection, but are found to be immune to the disease.

Dr. Kramer does not suggest that human beings be subjected to the danger of having the virus placed in their noses, but, with the virus widely distributed as it is thought to be, it is possible that an intranasal vaccination can be achieved by spraying with the pituitrin-adrephrine mixture and allowing the virus to find its way naturally into the nose and thus join in producing the immunity. This is the basis for the hope for eventually achieving a practical method of vaccination. The treatments would be started in the early summer before the time for the peak of the epidemic arrives.

The spray is found by Dr. Kramer to cause a notable mobilization of certain white blood cells in the nose just under the mucous membrane, and around the endings of the nerves of smell, which are located in the upper part of the nose. These nerves have been demonstrated to be the avenue of entry of the virus into the brain and spinal cord of the victim.

The drug, ephedrine, contained in Dr. Kramer's spray is already widely used medically in treatment of colds and other respiratory infections, and adrenalin is used to relieve asthma. The pituitrin is not placed in the mixture because of its hormone nature, but because it prolongs the action of the adrephrine.

Dr. Kramer is working on other aspects of the polio problem. He is one of about a score of investigators in all parts of the country who have been able to concentrate on the problem of infantile paralysis through support from the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, which consisted of 30 per cent of the proceeds received from the 1935 birthday ball which honored President Roosevelt. Further support of such researches is one of the objectives of the new National Foundation for infantile paralysis just announced by President Roosevelt.

Vaccination against infantile paralysis was attempted by different methods previously and two vaccines were given extensive trials in 1935, but abandoned as unsuccessful. Dr. Kramer has under development another type of vaccination that may eventually be useful during the emergency of an epidemic. He has made ingenious mixtures of virulent infantile paralysis virus with a serum which is able to hold in check the paralyzing, fatal activity of the virus. This works on monkeys but has not yet been tried in humans.

Popular and Talented Actress Plays Leading Role in "Confession"

Kay Francis has starred in many great pictures during eight years in the screen, but in the Warner Brothers' emotional drama, "Confession," which opened at the Dominion Theatre this afternoon, she tops any performance she has ever given, according to well-known screen critics.

"Confession" was adapted from the tremendously successful European stage-play "Mazurka," and the Warners imported Joe May, famed Continental director, to guide the making of it.

Appearing with Miss Francis in this gripping screen vehicle are such notables of Hollywood as Ian Hunter and Basil Rathbone.

The second feature on this programme is "Charlie Chan on Broadway," in which the well-known and popular Warner Oland is starred.

PLAZA THEATRE

A delightful story of the introduction of waltz music to England is told in "Waltztime in Vienna" now showing at the Plaza Theatre. The compositions of Johann Strauss and Lanner are featured.

"Along Came Love" the second feature is the story of a romantic shopgirl who meets her ideal and contrives to make him fall in love and propose to her despite the fact that he has other things on his mind. Irene Hervey, and Charles Starrett play the lead roles.

A street light will be installed at the street car stop opposite the Esquimalt municipal hall, the council decided at its meeting last night. Erection of the light will cost $18.50.

Husband of Galli-Curci Will Assist Her in Concert Here Friday Night

The sensational return to the concert platform of Galli-Curci, world-famous soprano, who will be heard here Friday night at the Royal Victoria Theatre, at first caused considerable conjecture on the part of questioning critics.

Immediately, her managers, Evans and Salter, decided to prove the unique claims for the new Galli-Curci voice by having a set of recordings made.

After hearing these records, Eugene Stinson, veteran critic of The Chicago Daily News, headlined on the first page of his paper "Records prove Galli-Curci has regained her great voice."

He went on to report "Galli-Curci has given indisputable evidence in a set of recordings which attest the amazing fitness of her vocalism. There can be nothing wrong with the voice that made these records; they contain the voice which the world was waiting to hear."

The box office opened today at the Royal for the sale of tickets for the Galli-Curci concert. Homer Samuels will play a group of piano solos on Mme. Galli-Curci's programme, which will include three arias, a group of songs sung in English and a group of French and German songs.

ATLAS BOOKS

TWO PICTURES

Two items of far more than passing importance to motion picture audiences are found in the announcement that "Romance in Paris" is to be presented on the screen of the Atlas Theatre beginning tomorrow.

First, it will mark the American debut of Fernand Gravet, famous Continental film star. Born in Belgium, educated in England, a resident now of France, he is one of the ranking screen idols throughout all of Europe.

Second, "Romance in Paris" is the first picture made by the brilliant young Warner Bros. director, Mervyn LeRoy, under his new status of producer.

Also to be starred are Ann Dvorak and John Littel in "Midnight Court."

OAK BAY THEATRE

Expert newsreel and Derby commentators lend unusual authority to the scene of a Derby race which is the climax of "Wings of the Morning." Twentieth Century-Fox release in natural Technicolor, now at the Oak Bay Theatre. Steve Donoghue, famous English jockey, rides the winner in the film, which stars Annabella, Henry Fonda and Leslie Banks.

To insure complete authenticity for the sensational record of the great event, the producers enlisted the services of E. V. H. Emmett, well-known newsreel commentator in England, who wrote his own commentary after seeing the material on the screen, and Capt. R. C. Lyle, noted racing authority who broadcast last year's running description of the race.

CAPITOL THEATRE

The most distinguished motion picture to reach the screen since the inception of talkies is at the Capitol Theatre today in the photoplay version of Pearl S. Buck's widely-read novel, "The Good Earth."

Four years in the making, its panoramic scenes necessitating the transformation of a California mountainside into a Chinese landscape with acres of rice fields, gardens and villages, "The Good Earth" is not only an artistic achievement but is one of the most stirring stories ever to be unfolded on the screen.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Dick Powell and Madeleine Carroll, stars of Irving Berlin's "On the Avenue," 20th Century-Fox musical now at the Columbia Theatre, are supported by a superb cast of funmakers, including Alice Faye, the Ritz Brothers, George Barbier, Alan Mowbray, Cora Witherspoon, Stepin Fetchit and Sig Rumann.

ROWE RESIGNS COMMONS SEAT

Conservative Leader in Ontario
Squares Away For Provincial Election

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader, today resigned his seat in the House of Commons, where he had represented Dufferin-Simcoe since 1925.

His resignation and that of Colin Campbell, Liberal member for Frontenac-Aldington, Ont., also received today, were necessary before they formally could accept nomination as candidates in the Ontario general election October 6.

Both resignations were placed in the hands of Speaker Casgrain, who will declare the seats vacant.

For the vacancy created in Cape Breton North-Victoria by the recent death of C. A. Cameron, Liberal member, a by-election has been called for October 25. It is expected writs will be issued at once for the two Ontario vacancies.

Mr. Rowe was a member of the Dominion cabinet without portfolio from August 30 to October 13, 1935. He Conservative government met defeat at the polls on the latter date. Mr. Campbell entered the House of Commons in a by-election in 1934 and was re-elected in 1935.

Early Change In Spain Sought

Britain and France Urge Italy Withdraw Volunteers; League Pauses

GENEVA (AP) — France and Great Britain joined hands today to forestall League of Nations action in the Spanish civil war, inferring they wished first to get Premier Mussolini to agree to withdraw Italian volunteers from the Spanish insurgent army.

Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos of France announced this policy before the League committee on political questions, which is considering Spain's appeal against what it charges is "Fascist invasion."

Referring to the proposed conversations by France, Great Britain and Italy on the question of volunteers, M. Delbos said, "the moment has come when a clear declaration must be made, followed by effective action."

"The withdrawal of foreign combatants from Spain is of peculiar urgency."

RUSSIAN PROPOSAL

Soviet Russia's Minister for Foreign Affairs, Maxim Litvinov, opposed the Franco-British plan. He proposed, in effect, that non-intervention be discarded in favor of a policy enabling the Valencia government to obtain war materials freely.

"Let's give them two airplanes for every one the other side gets," he suggested. "In that way the war will be finished quickly, and we shall have peace based on the principles of international law and the covenant."

Pentiction Keeps Schools Closed

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — The Pentiction Board of Health today lifted the ban on public gatherings so far as adults in the community were concerned, but determined that the 11-year-old Mildred Strong was suffering from infantile paralysis. She was reported "considerably better."

Schools which were ordered closed when doctors said they suspected the girl might have contracted the disease will remain shut for another two weeks, doctors said. Children will not be permitted in theatres or other public buildings during that time.

League Seat Is Given Belgium

GENEVA (AP) — Belgium was elected today as a non-permanent member of the League of Nations Council to succeed republican Spain. Last week the League Assembly rejected Spain's bid for reelection.

Specialties Higher In Active Trading On Wall St. Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Specialties held the advancing limelight in today's stock market while some leaders were kept in the background by profit-selling.

The list had its ups and downs throughout, but prices generally pointed upward. Gains running to two points at the opening were canceled in many cases later. There were subsequent recoveries and several favorites climbed as much as seven at the best.

Speculative forces found little especially stimulating in the news, although most leaned toward the buying side on the theory the rally started yesterday still had some distance to go in view of the lengthy setback which set numerous stocks to new low territory for the past two years.

The trading volume was considerably under the day before, transfers being approximately 1,400,000 shares.

Steels, motors, coppers and rails seemed somewhat exhausted after their brisk push of Monday.

Business optimism expressed by Gen. Dawes and President Brown of Johns-Manville was welcomed to encourage those who feel conditions economically have been better than market sentiment.
